Birds, the expression of freedom, soaring in spirit and achieving new heights, are arrayed in varying blends of color as each takes flight for the goals of tomorrow.

As we excel in academics, prove our superiority in athletics, and display technical skills, the students of Pacific High School reflect different shadings of character and interest which will shape their future world.

Jeff,
It's been a privilege to have you
as my student.
Keep up that enthusiasm, fire &
eager learning attitude
it's S.P.E.R.B.

Jeff -
I really wish we could have had a class together
this year! Maybe next year - I hope -
maybe Varn Voorhis

Jeff,
I can't remember the days when we weren't friends. Our friendship has lasted thru thick & thin - and will continue to do so. Don't ever change, Jeff, because you're great the way you are. Good luck in all your endeavors.

Sincerely,
Mike

FACULTY

Associated with wisdom and knowledge, essential ingredients for all teachers, the owl has been characterized as a bird of great intelligence, perception and judgment throughout literature. Great is wisdom; infinite is the value of wisdom. It cannot be exaggerated; it is the highest achievement of man.

Thomas Carlyle

What nobler employment, or more valuable to the state, than that of the man who instructs the rising generation.

Cicero

"My name, and my place, and
my tomb, all forgotten
The brief race of time well and patiently run
So let me pass away, peacefully,
silently
Only remembered by what I have done."
—Bonar

IN MEMORIAM TO WILLIAM O. NEEL

Pacific High School lost one of its best and most liked friends, teacher and administrator when death claimed the life of William O. Neel. He coached the track, football and baseball teams, and was attendance counselor and athletic director. His friendly concern for others made Mr. Neel an outstanding man. In his memory, Pacific High School established a memorial fund to be awarded to a senior boy who has made superior contributions to athletics and school service.

Mr. Brickley

"As I complete my first year as Principal of Pacific High School, it is with pride and humility that I pen a short message to the tremendous effort this annual required in the making, and the vast and far reaching scope of faculty and student life this book reflects. We started this school year with most, if not all, of the challenges of our rapidly changing social order. Problems that required immediate and intelligent solutions were on all sides. Our faculty and student body responded as only those with pride, compassion, and ambition should. We are known far and wide as the school that travels and performs 'First Class All The Way.' 'To the faculty, I must say 'Thank You' for what you are: balanced, dedicated, effective, searching, and supportive of youth. This is not true of all schools. At Pacific it is, and because of this, our overall program of superior education is relatively easy to comprehend."

James Buckley

ADMINISTRATION

Nancy Stark, administrative secretary, called important matters to Mr. Brickley's attention.

Mr. Brickley proudly displayed the autographed football from the Berdoo game.

Mr. Stancer relaxed a minute after a hard day of solving school problems.

Mr. Marshall

Mr. Joseph Marshall, new addition to the administration of Pacific, labored long and hard throughout the year with Mr. Stancer and Mr. Brickley to solve the problems and disturbances that plagued them.

J. A. Marshall

Mr. Stancer

Helping Mr. Marshall adjust to the surroundings of a new school, Mr. George Stancer aided in disciplining the students and was instrumental in continuing high standards that are so characteristic of Pacific.

George P. Stancer

Mr. Marshall helped keep order at the many assemblies and forums presented during the school year.

APPLIED ARTS DEPARTMENT

Working hard to make this year a success by trying new teaching techniques, the Applied Arts department, directed by Mr. Harbaugh, devoted much time and energy to broadening the knowledge of students in the fine arts and in homemaking. The choral groups gave performances and presented a play, while homemaking cooked and sewed, and art classes worked on an exhibit.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The future depends on communication.

Striving to educate the students of Pacific in the many areas of English, from grammar to world, American and English literature, the English Department labored with their students. The main goal of these endeavors was to promote the intellectual level of students through reading, and to perfect the student's usage of the English language. Besides these things, the English classes took trips into Los Angeles many times to see the Art Museum, Forest Lawn, and to many of the fine plays and musicals offered.

PEDAGOGUES OF PACIFIC

Consisting of and involving all the members of the faculty, the Pedagogues of Pacific planned the different events and projects of the faculty again this year. Leading the club in all of its functions, Mr. Charles Morrison, the president, attempted to satisfy the teachers' needs for comfort and relaxation. Assisting Mr. Morrison in his plans for social events, Mrs. Ruth Lewis and Mr. Walt Mayo did most of the planning. Combined efforts of the entire faculty was needed to make these events successful.

Mr. Charles Morrison, occupied with Pedagogues, was seen planning events for the faculty.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Familiarizing the students with a foreign tongue and making the language seem as if it were the one and only language of the student, was the job of the Language Department. For Spanish students, this meant acquiring the skill of speaking and writing the language and presenting skits. For the French students, plays, novels and conversations were the order of the day. The Latin students studied the language, translated stories by Roman authors, and also studied the culture of the Roman people.

Endeavoring to make the students in math classes more proficient in their skills, Math Department labored long and hard with the students. Since many of the students planned math careers, their ability to solve the algebra, geometry, trig and calculus was very important. The more technical minded were satisfied with appropriate classes.

Mr. Krabill helped his students place a problem on the board.

FIRST FACULTY MEETING

The Beginning of another year

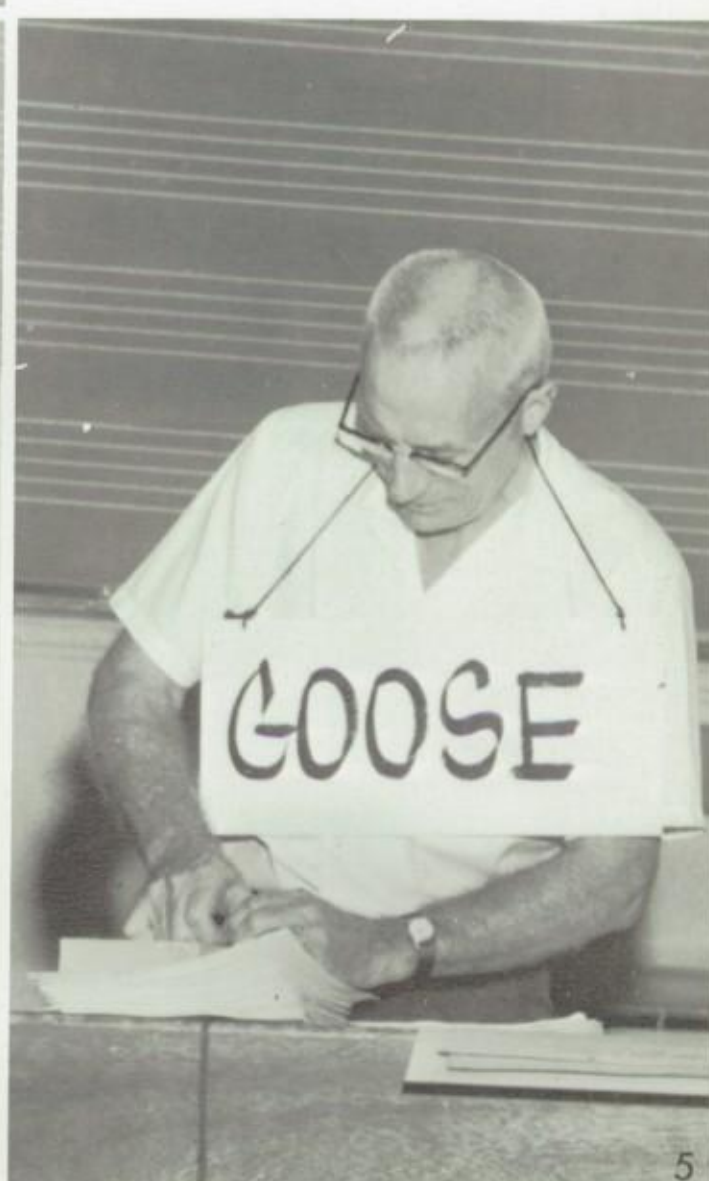

1. Before the meeting began, some of the faculty members cooked eggs and pancakes for the faculty and secretaries.

2. The teachers had a chance to talk about their summers and plans for the school year while enjoying breakfast.

3. Before Mr. Brickley called meeting to order, Mr. Nielsen and Mr. Chambers performed antics for the other teachers.

4. After chicken was presented to Mr. Brickley and goose to Mr. Stancer, Mr. Morrison zoomed about on motorcycle.

5. Mr. George "Goose" Stancer spoke to faculty about overall plans for the year and what to expect in the future.

While Miss Zanders often participated in sports with students, Mr. Neymeyer and Mr. Grenfell directed their classes in various outdoor sports.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Attempting to develop the students in other ways than intellectually and mentally, the Physical Education Department instructed the students in many different sports. For boys, this included football, basketball, track, volleyball and baseball. For girls' PE classes, tumbling, tennis, softball, basketball, field hockey and archery were included.

Memorizing parts of animal and human bodies, proper treatment of chemicals and experiments in aspects of motion and gravity characterized the year for science.

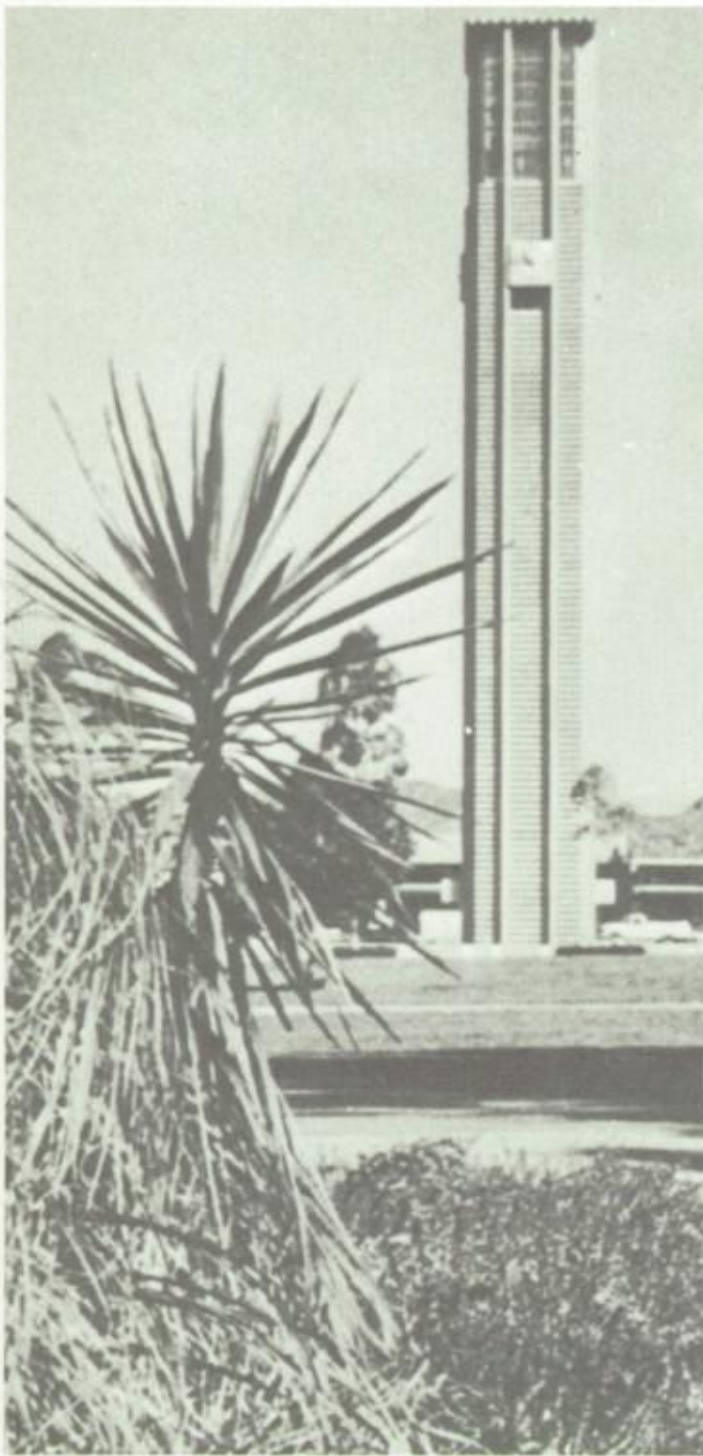

P. T. A. LIFE MEMBERSHIP Mr. Louie Lopez honored at dinner

Following tradition again this year, Mrs. Bailey awarded PTA Life Memberships to Mr. and Mrs. Richard McGowan and Mr. Louie Lopez at a PTA dinner held this spring. Entertainment included the ensemble, under the direction of Mr. John Will.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McGowan and Mr. Louie Lopez, from left to right, were the honored guests at the traditional PTA Life Membership Dinner.

FACULTY MEMBERS GOING TO SCHOOL

Learning is endless

Besides educating the students at Pacific, about one fourth of our teachers were also students at various college campuses, including Illinois State University, Redlands University, UCR, Valley College, Berkeley, Columbia University, USC and Los Angeles State College. They were studying for masters and Ph.D. degrees.

Miss Martha Hempstead, Mr. Jerry Narramore, Mr. Frank Masek and Mrs. Ruth Lewis discussed the problems they had teaching courses at college. Teachers instructing at college not pictured are Mr. Bill Krabill, Mr. Charles Wood, Mr. Bob Letro.

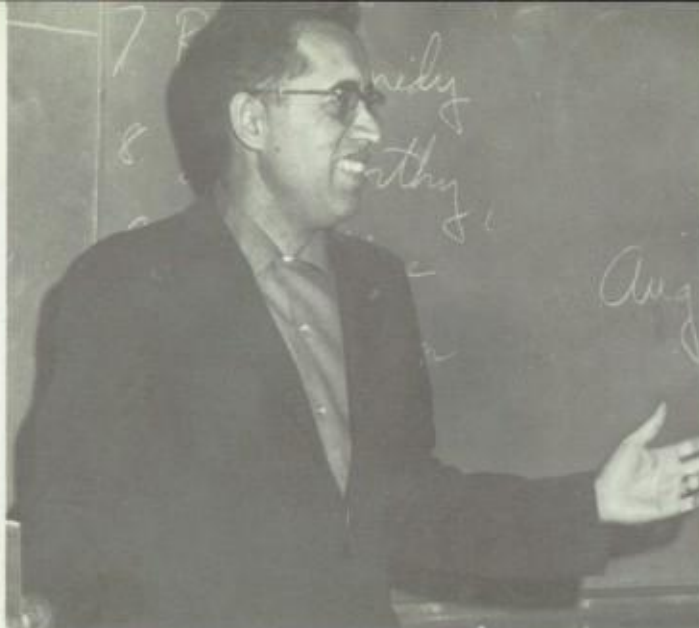

Mr. Bob Meade and Mr. Jim Taylor taught at night school. Not pictured are Mr. David Hoel, Mr. Dick Coffin, Mr. Harlan Duden, Mr. Howard Clark.

FACULTY ACTIVITIES

Faculty Members Moonlighting

In addition to teaching the students at Pacific High School during the day, our faculty spent many of their evenings teaching night school and college courses here and at other schools. The adult night school courses our teachers taught ranged from history, government and psychology to auto shop, while the college courses included plane trigonometry at Valley, English at Cal State San Bernardino and UCR. One teacher instructed a continuation class at Conrad.

Mr. Kirk and Mr. Lopez were often found lecturing their classes on events past and present.

Mr. Chambers frequently announced at football games.

While Mr. Jones worked to keep the library current, Mrs. Kirk worked with her students.

Mr. Mayo was often found writing assignments on the board.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Involving a variety of interests and classes, the Social Science Department worked to attain all the goals they set for themselves at the beginning of the school year. The psychology teachers instructed their students in the art of analyzing a person's mind while the sociology classes were being taught the social relations and institutions of the different races of people. The history classes studied the past of our nation and the world, while the problems classes explored our government institutions and political scene of the '68 election.

ACTIVITIES

Woodpeckers attracted man's attention by his constant activity. Pacific became the center of many activities as the year progressed. Dances, homecomings, assemblies, forums created interest in our school and unified the student body. Laughter and pleasure became as much an integrated part of our campus as did the learning process.

FOOTBALL HOME COMING

Queen Jodi was coronated amid the excitement of a three-ring circus.

Presenting "The Greatest Show on Earth", Barnum and Brickley Circus served as host to the coronation of the 1967 Football Homecoming Queen, Jodi Schakel. Her court of princesses included Wendy Waddell, first princess; Sheryl Harshbarger, second princess; Linda Evans, third princess; and Barbara Nitteberg, fourth princess. The coronation day began with the Alumni Tea in the library. Judging of the clubs' floats took place at 3 p.m. followed by the royal procession and car caravan which left at 6:30. Our victorious game against Chaffey was followed by the homecoming dance "Under the Big Top". Responsible for this event were Jaci Jackson, alumni secretary, and advisor Jack Fitzgerald.

Unsuspecting Jodi endured feelings of hope, astonishment, ecstasy, and total joy as she became 1967 Football Homecoming Queen. Shown with her were John Hudson, her escort, and Sue Fuqua, who reigned as Queen for 1967.

Taking the shape of a circus carousel, the Pacific High School Band and Drill Team perform at Homecoming game activities.

Careful planning paid off for the Pagettes, when they were awarded the Sweepstakes for their float, a colorful tiger cage.

DOCTOR BAILEY

Class of 1967 remembered Dr. Bailey
with a sculpture.

Student Council of 1967 started an "I like Dr. Bailey" drive when the school learned of his plans to leave Pacific. This drive was successful and earned enough money to purchase services of an artist, Mr. Ellis of L. A., who masterfully constructed the bust (pictured below). The bust was presented to Dr. Bailey at the '67 Scholarship assembly with a standing ovation from students.

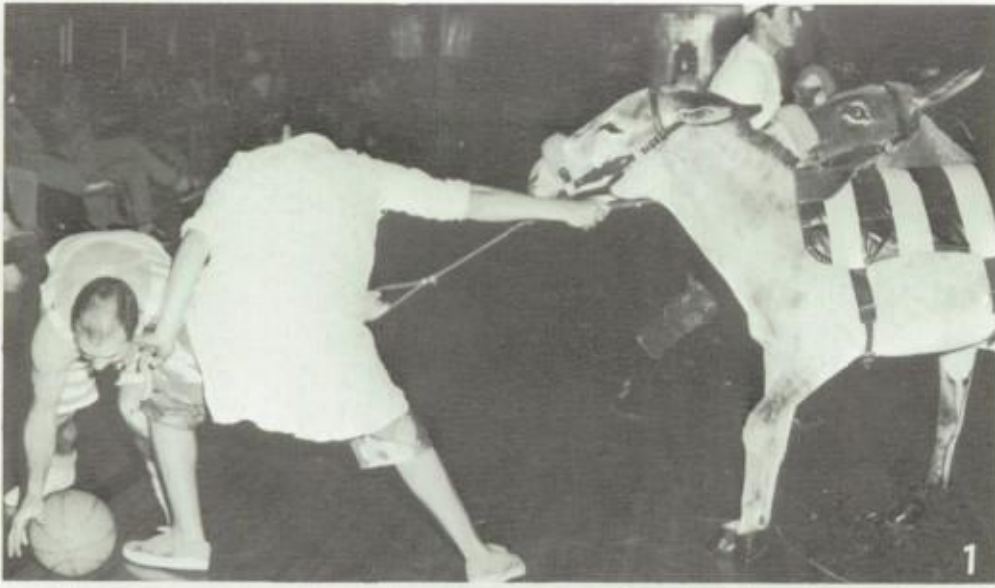

BERDOO DAY

"We want bird meat!" was the cry as PHS students celebrated another traditional Berdoo Day. As in the past, dead chickens, mountains of trash cans in the quad, hourly chanting of "Beat Berdoo!" and visits to our rival school were all a part of this daylong event. As a climax, Pirates were victorious that night.

DONKEY BASKETBALL

1. Frolicking Fotia made an honest faculty effort to recapture ball as shrewd student duo of Jolly Roger Cooper and Mother Goose Goldie maneuvered burros and bodies into advantageous spot.

2. A look of anguish spreads across face of this fallen hero (?) as tempo of game picked up. Players and animals took punishment. Hooves and tails were rewards received for sudden dismount.

3. "Go west, young man!" was idea of Hank Hank Foley as he pointed animal toward students' basket. The donkey appears to have had an entirely different plan, though, as he trotted away.

4. Accidents will happen and they did at Pacific's Donkey Basketball game. Rest periods, few and far between for teachers and students, were even more scarce for official clean-up committee.

5. Mounting their donkeys and staying on them proved to be a full-time job for all who participated in treacherous competition. Vicious Van Osdel experienced difficulty as she climbed on to try again.

6. Martha Molony demurely accepted treasured crown of Donkey Basketball Homecoming Queen as first princess Della Deegan tearfully looked on. Bestowing crown was lovely Cindy Katona.

PACIFIC HIGH IN THE COMMUNITY

1. Pacific High student Neil Foley participated in Tuesday night activity at the Uptown YMCA throughout senior year. He was involved in recreation instruction such as swimming class, pictured right.

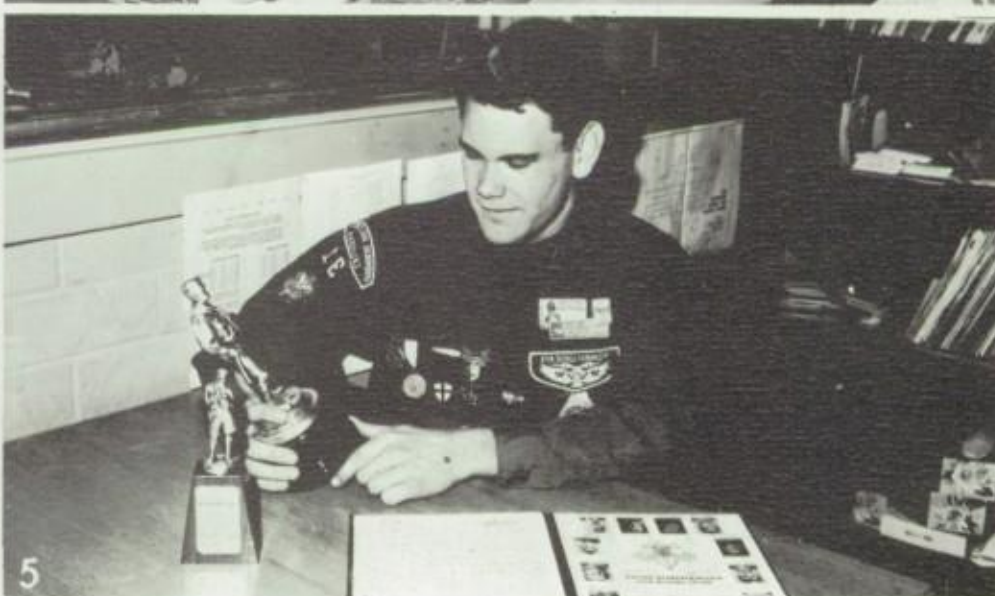

2. Part-time employment opportunities were filled by many Pirates. Ken Shaddox was a cashier at Boulevard Market.

3. ASB vice-president Bob Fredericks ventured beyond the community to enjoy the warm hospitality of the Japanese at Tachikawa, Japan, last summer. Bob still reminisces about his trip to Far East.

4. Juanita Rohrich and Jeanne Reynolds contributed hours as counselors and financial secretaries to the YMCA.

5. Representing five western states, Eagle Scout Brent Miller journeyed to Washington, D.C. in February. While in the nation's capital he presented and received trophies and met the President.

6. Fashionable Joanne Barry was one of Campus Deb Teen Board members of Harris'. Working in different departments, such as Bridal Shop, she accumulated valuable sales work experience.

"V for Victory!" is cry as cheerleaders perform at rally.

Darlene signals for quiet as leadership girls finish cheers.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

"WHO ARE THE PIRATES? WE ARE THE PIRATES!
WHAT KIND OF PIRATES? FIGHTING PIRATES!"

Reminding the student body of Pacific that this institution is "first class all the way", the Varsity Cheerleaders created an air of true school spirit at all of their performances on campus and at numerous athletic events. Darlene Bailey, head cheerleader, was responsible for all pep groups at Pacific. Cheering with her were the other varsity squad members. Phyllis Abrams, Darlene Cripps, Barbara Homrich, Jodi Schakel, Jolita Feltzs, and Becky Wagoner. Adding to the group's appearance were the smart uniforms in which they were attired. A white pleated skirt with purple inset and matching white sweater adorned with two purple stripes and a megaphone insignia proved a flattering outfit for the cheerleaders. Exemplifying Pacific's greatness, this group vivaciously boosted the spirit of teams and students.

LINEBACKERS

With a CBL title to look forward to, the Pacific High Linebackers enthusiastically carried out the purpose of the organization—to lend a helping hand to the Varsity, J.V. and Bee football teams. Under guidance of Mr. Dick Gross, president, and Mr. Francis Bailey, secretary, club members contributed their maximum assistance to the teams. They provided refreshments at football games and staged a breakfast and luncheon during summer practice. The club also supplied medals for "Player of the Week". A Las Vegas trip was a thank-you gift to coaches.

BOOSTER CLUB

Contributing time and effort, the members of Booster Club set off another year of vigorous support to Pacific's student body activities. Subdivisions of Booster Club were Band-Aides, Rebounders, and Linebackers. Mr. Bo Bailey, pictured, maintained efficiency as president of the Booster Club. Another project of the club was the Fall Awards Banquet. Shown at the banquet: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Caulo, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Don Neimyer, John Grenfell, Mr. Farr.

P.T.A.

Promoting better parent-teacher relations, the P.T.A. sponsored many activities such as the Salad Luncheon held in November. Among other numerous worthwhile projects were the Back-to-School Night, College and Vocational Guidance Night, and a program covering drugs and VD. Leading P.T.A. into another successful year were its 1967-'68 officers. Pictured are Mrs. R. Branch, Financial Treasurer; Mrs. C. Potts, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. R. Sheehe, President; Mrs. F. Holland, Vice President; Mrs. F. Thomas, Treasurer. Mrs. C. Walker was P.T.A. Historian.

FOOD BASKET DRIVE

"It is better to give than to receive." Fortunately, there existed at Pacific a substantial number of students who cared enough to contribute groceries to the Thanksgiving Basket Drive. The project, conducted by Mrs. Van Osdel, stimulated competition between homeroom classes. The winners of this contest received a plaque for drumming up the greatest amount of food. Miss Cereceres' class won the contest.

BEVERLY PETRONE

Whipping colorful flags of taffeta, the Pacific Varsity Flag squad executed exciting routines during pep rallies, assemblies, and football games. The noted group, led by Beverly Petrone, included senior members Wendy Waddell, Donna Simondes, Pattie McGinty, Duffy Sipma, and junior squad members Brenda Plymesser and Sharon Corcoran. The lively girls donned uniforms of velveteen and crepe with sequin braids for added sparkle. To attain precision in their routines, the Varsity Flags not only practiced daily during leadership class sixth period but also drilled after school. Representing Pacific, this talented group performed in several parades for the community. The Flags, under Beverly's guidance, created, practiced, and perfected a complicated routine, placing third in a Southern California contest.

Both juniors and seniors occasionally took time to enjoy a jam session.

"Practice makes perfect" was their creed . . .

B. Barnett, E. Cook, B. Oehl, T. Bindner, J. Meza. 4th row: S. Swant, D. Snell (pres.), J. Short, B. Short, S. Knight, S. Lockwood, B. Opitz, G. Reiner, L. Cimino, S. Veloz, S. Brown, J. Hanna. Back row: J. Amberg, C. Scott, L. Kersten, H. Stumpf, T. Stewart, D. Houchin, L. Burreul, K. Kaufmann, D. Imoe, K. Whisler, M. Hocut, K. Boyd, J. Dial, R. Ward, G. St. Germain, P. Kalnin.

... as the band rehearsed each week.

Bright uniforms and polished instruments of the band appeared at all games.

The rhythmic beat of drums and the blare of trumpets, uniforms of bright purple and gold, a music sounding the excitement which filled the hearts of all Pirates.

Producing pulsating melodies, the marching band of Pacific was able to boast of another memorable year. Directed by Mr. Harbaugh, the musicians participated in various activities. Shifting into precise formation on the football field, this organization provided tunes at halftime. Performances in parades in Redlands and San Bernardino were also a part of their demanding schedule. The band presented a Winter Concert during February, and highlighted the warmer spring months with "Springtasia" in May. Officers were elected and awards were bestowed at the festive banquet which followed. Pacific played host for the annual Band Festival. The band was supported by Band-Aides, a parent group.

VARSITY POM PONS

"Pacific High we love so well,
With pride and joy our praises swell"

Entertaining student and public audiences, the 1967-'68 Varsity Pom Pons received acclamations as a polished, well-organized group of performers. Under the direction of head Pom Pon Barbara Petrone, this squad became known for its graceful kicks and dainty shuffles. Varsity members were Barbara Nitteberg, Miriam Short, Lynn Brock, Susi Saner, Rhoda Curwen, Marilyn Martin. Comprised of traditional colors of purple and white, their satin uniforms were accented by scallops on the bell-shaped sleeves and also near the skirt hem. The Pom Pons presented interpretations of school spirit through intricate and feminine dance-like routines. A most memorable performance was the Football Homecoming jazz dance at half-time. Pom Pons appeared at all major sports events combining originality and a unique talent.

CADET CORPS

Perfection was their goal.

Rigorous training characterized the military organization, Cadet Corps. Under the guidance of Col. Betts and his company commanders, Gregory Kirkland and Dennis Martin, the group held flag ceremonies, perfected their shooting skills and directed traffic. Kirkland, not shown, had a noteworthy record in the Corps.

The 1967-'68 Drill Team, the Anchorettes, are left to right, Row 1: L. Newman, T. Newcomer, B. Ashmore, J. Aboytes, E. Hernandez, Right Guide M. Navarrette. Row 2: L. Abad, P. Hernandez, R. Hernandez, B. Her-

Personal appearance of team endured many inspections.

Accuracy in shooting was achieved by hours of practice on range.

DRILL TEAM

Stepping lively Pacific's Anchorettes created intricate marching formations
for halftimes.

As a highlight of Pacific High football and basketball games, the 1967-'68 Anchorettes (Drill Team) combined physical stamina and a desire for perfection to achieve the entertaining routines of the past year. During halftimes, the group centered their performances around themes such as "Lollipop", "Circus World" and a salute to Tijuana Brass. For the community, Anchorettes, sponsored by Mrs. Mitchel, marched in Christmas parade and the "Covered Wagon Days" parade, in which they took first place.

Members worked for hours on Homecoming halftime.

Happy smiles pervaded as the drill team girls celebrated our victory.

BEE CHEERLEADERS

Springing into fantastic split jump formations, and heartily yelling for victory, the Bee Cheerleaders for 1967-'68 set an example of true school enthusiasm. Contributing to their sharp appearance were the group's uniforms. A purple sweater with a white block on front and back, purple skirts, and purple shoes created a look which received approval from the students. Head Cheerleader was Terri Clarkson. The squad included Kris Cleveland, Marcia Rosar, Cathi Monninger, and Becky Terry. Bringing honor to Pacific High, the Bees were awarded second place in All-Southern California competition held in the fall. At pep assemblies, the group performed tumbling feats in perfect formation and timing.

BEE POM PONS

Shuffling through routines and wearing gracious smiles, the Bee Pom Pons enthusiastically supported Pacific High School's J.V. and Bee teams during the 1967-'68 season. Directing this group of juniors was Carla Christensen, head Pom Pon. Squad members were Nancy Mulcahy, Christie Nitteberg, Lillian Lebeck, Kathy Schakel. The girls were suited in outfits of purple, accented by petite aprons of white organdy. White tennis shoes and gloves served as accessories to the uniforms. Performing weekly at pep assemblies and games required continuous practice and polishing. This group also appeared in parades and could be seen displaying Pacific's banner on the field during football halftimes.

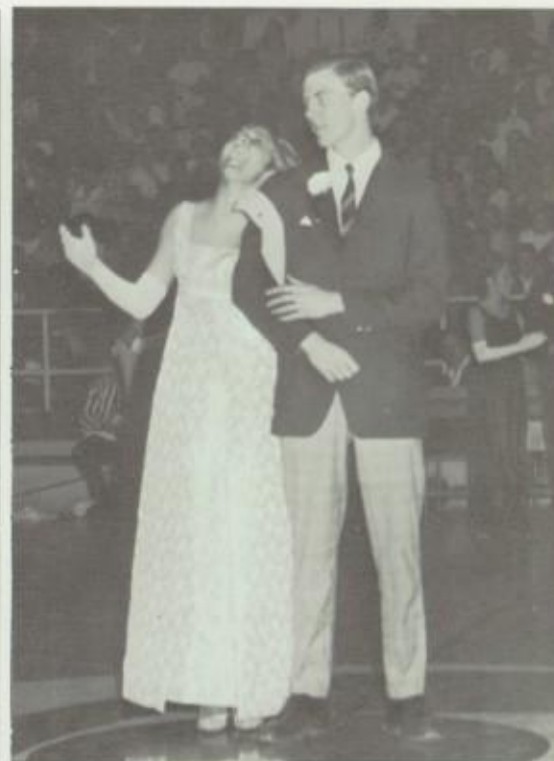

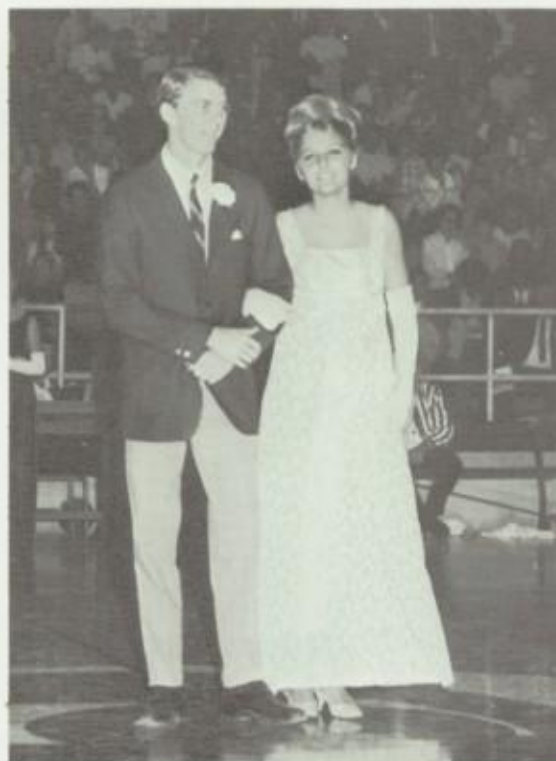

BASKETBALL HOMECOMING

A wearing of the green, a traditional jig were all part of homecoming.

Frolicking Leprechauns, clad in suits of green, added a "Touch of Blarney" to the 1967-'68 Basketball Homecoming program. Music was provided by McNamara's Band as the drill team members performed an Irish jig. Halftime ceremonies were climaxed by coronation of the Basketball Homecoming Queen. Cindy Katona, escorted by Ron Magness, received her crown from last year's queen, Pam Brantley, amidst joyful applause from the crowd. Her court consisted of first princess, Darlene Bailey; second princess, Barbara Homrich; junior princess, Becky Wagoner, and sophomore darling, Leslie Waddell. The following night-a dance, featuring the Facades, was held at Valley College in honor of the court.

Cindy Katona and escort, Ron Magness, anxiously awaited the momentous announcement appointing Cindy queen. Receiving her crown from Pam Brantley, she reigned over the activities.

Dressed as Leprechauns, drill team dances at halftime.

Rehearsal for candidates and escorts was enjoyed by all.

ASSEMBLIES

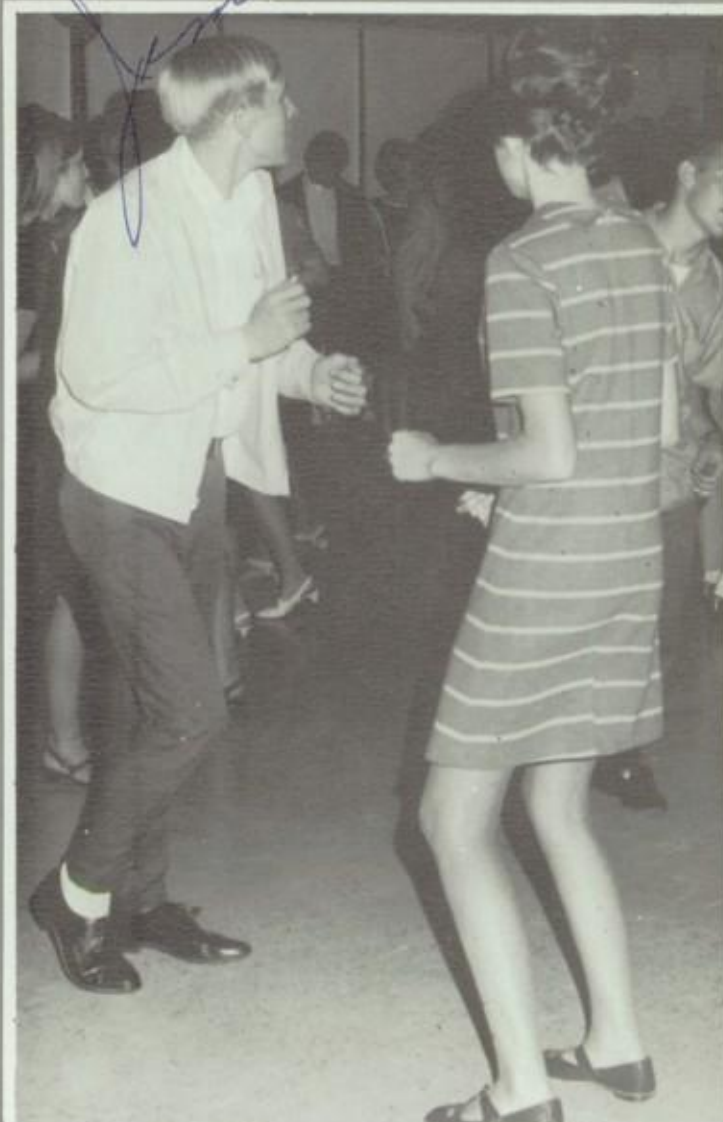

Spirited students participated in pep assemblies held throughout football and basketball seasons. Competition cheers were deafening while the skits which were performed were hilarious. Paid performers added variety and interest to many pep assemblies.

DANCES

Playing host, Pacific provided bands and good times.

Moving to the sounds of various local bands, Pacific students, as well as students from surrounding schools, enjoyed the dances sponsored by student council. Cindy Katona, the Governor of Activities, lined up many groups for the events. Among talented bands performing for PHS were The Way, Caretakers, Good Feelings, Crawford's Invention.

WRESTLING SWEETHEART

Wrestlers elected lovely sophomore Laura Gomez.

Reigning over her court at the halftime activities, Laura Gomez became Wrestling Sweetheart for the 1967-'68 wrestling season. Escorted by CBL wrestler John Abad, Laura received her crown during the intermission of a crucial contest with Fontana. The Homecoming Court included Carla Christensen, first princess; Barbara Nitteberg, second princess; Jolita Feltz, third princess; Debbie Brickley, Linda Evans.

A beaming queen and her court observe PHS wrestlers struggle for a CBL victory.

LEHIS PROM FASHION SHOW

Formals and bridal gowns were pre-viewed for spring.

A sure sign of spring at Pacific was the traditional Lehis Prom Fashion Show. Held yearly, this event introduced the latest in formal attire. Following a theme of "Neptune's Castle", the Lehis created a nautical atmosphere with dangling fish mobiles and a treasure chest adorned with jewels. Modeling bridal fashions, senior club members highlighted the program with a presentation of the bride, (Pres.) Jaci Jackson.

Darlene and Lynn were perfect bridesmaids in green and orange gowns.

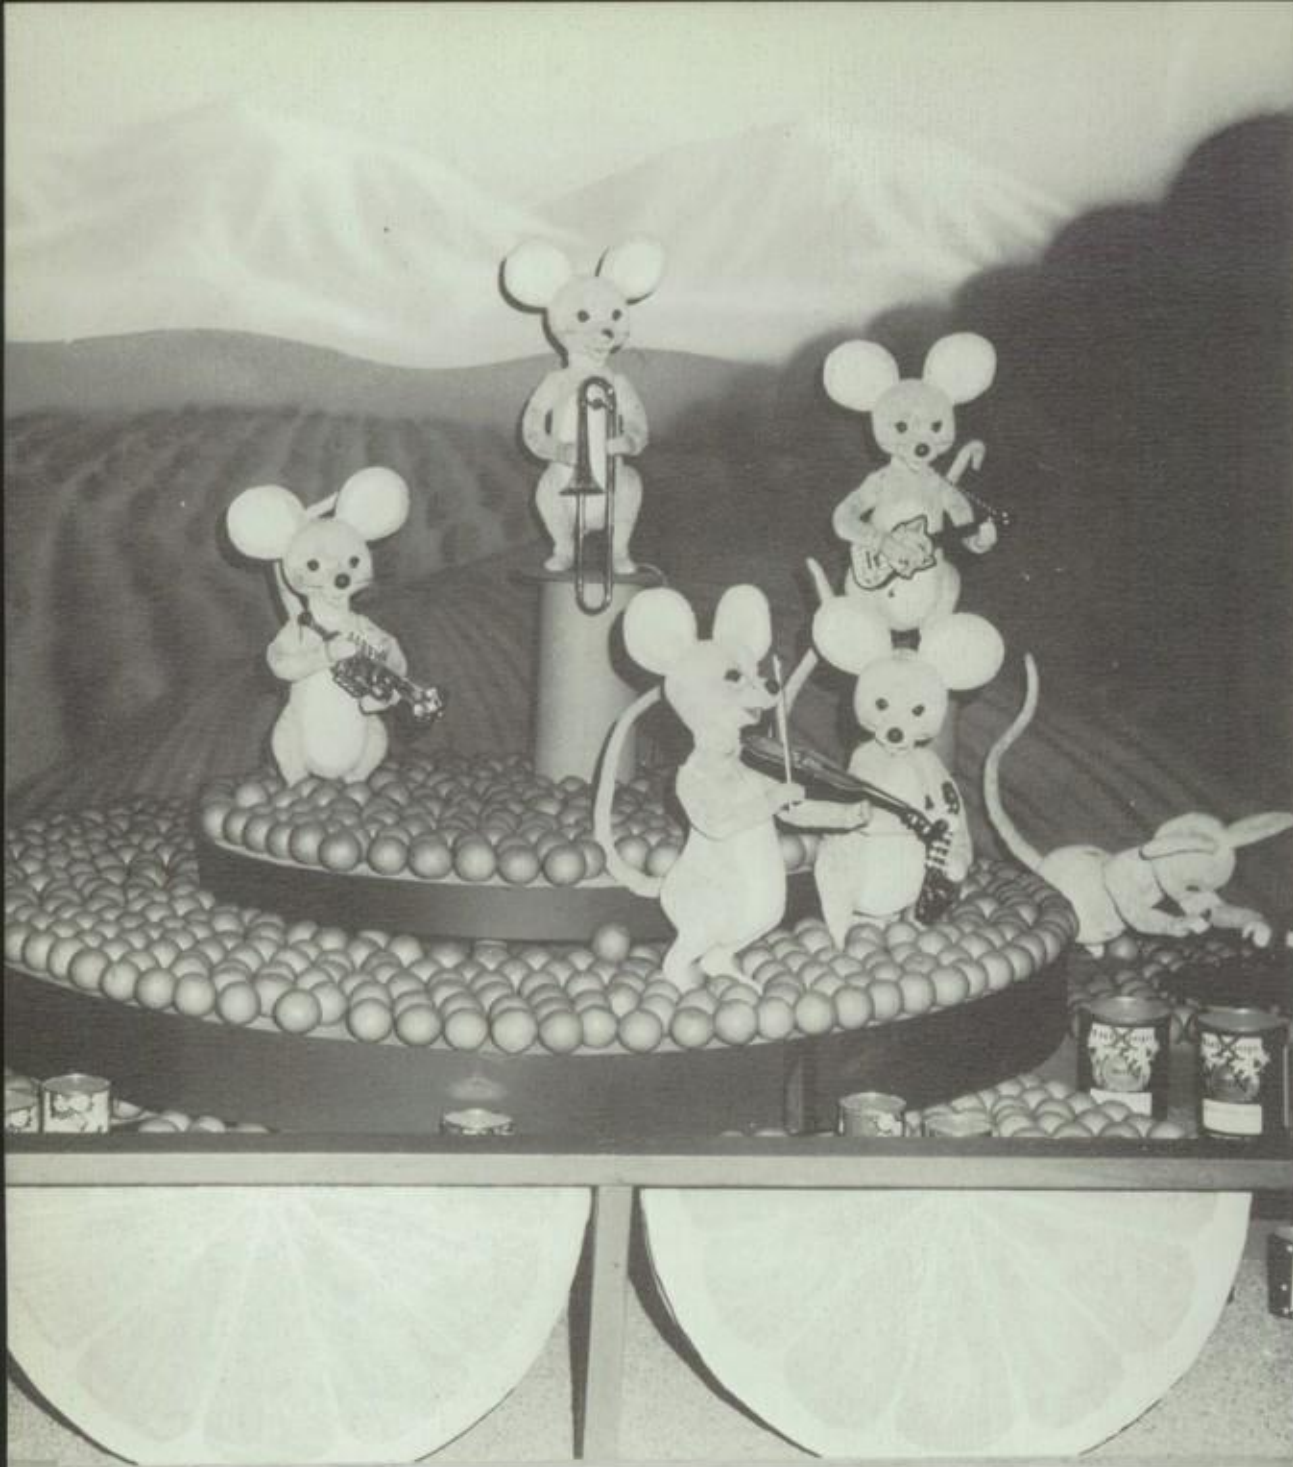

As Miss Fontaine commented on fashions, senior couples strolled on the stage.

ORANGE SHOW

Adhering to the theme of "Symphony in Citrus," the National Orange Show once again drew many Pacific students. Pirates toured the Hobby Show, Midway, Commercial Building, the Chevy Show and other exhibits.

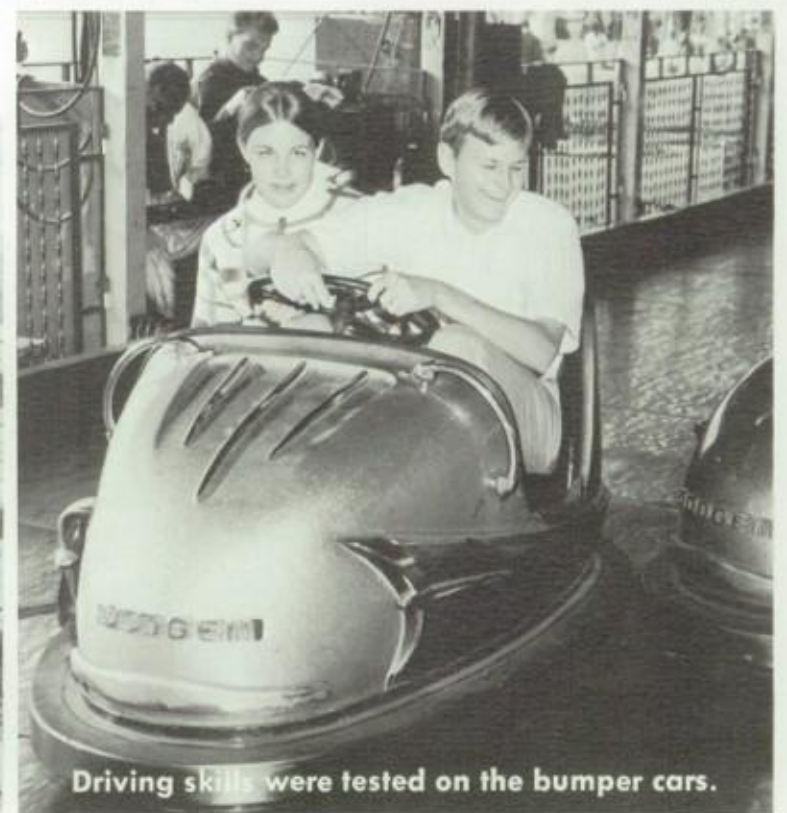

Pacific students explored fair grounds at their leisure

This bridge served as a perfect place for rest and recuperation.

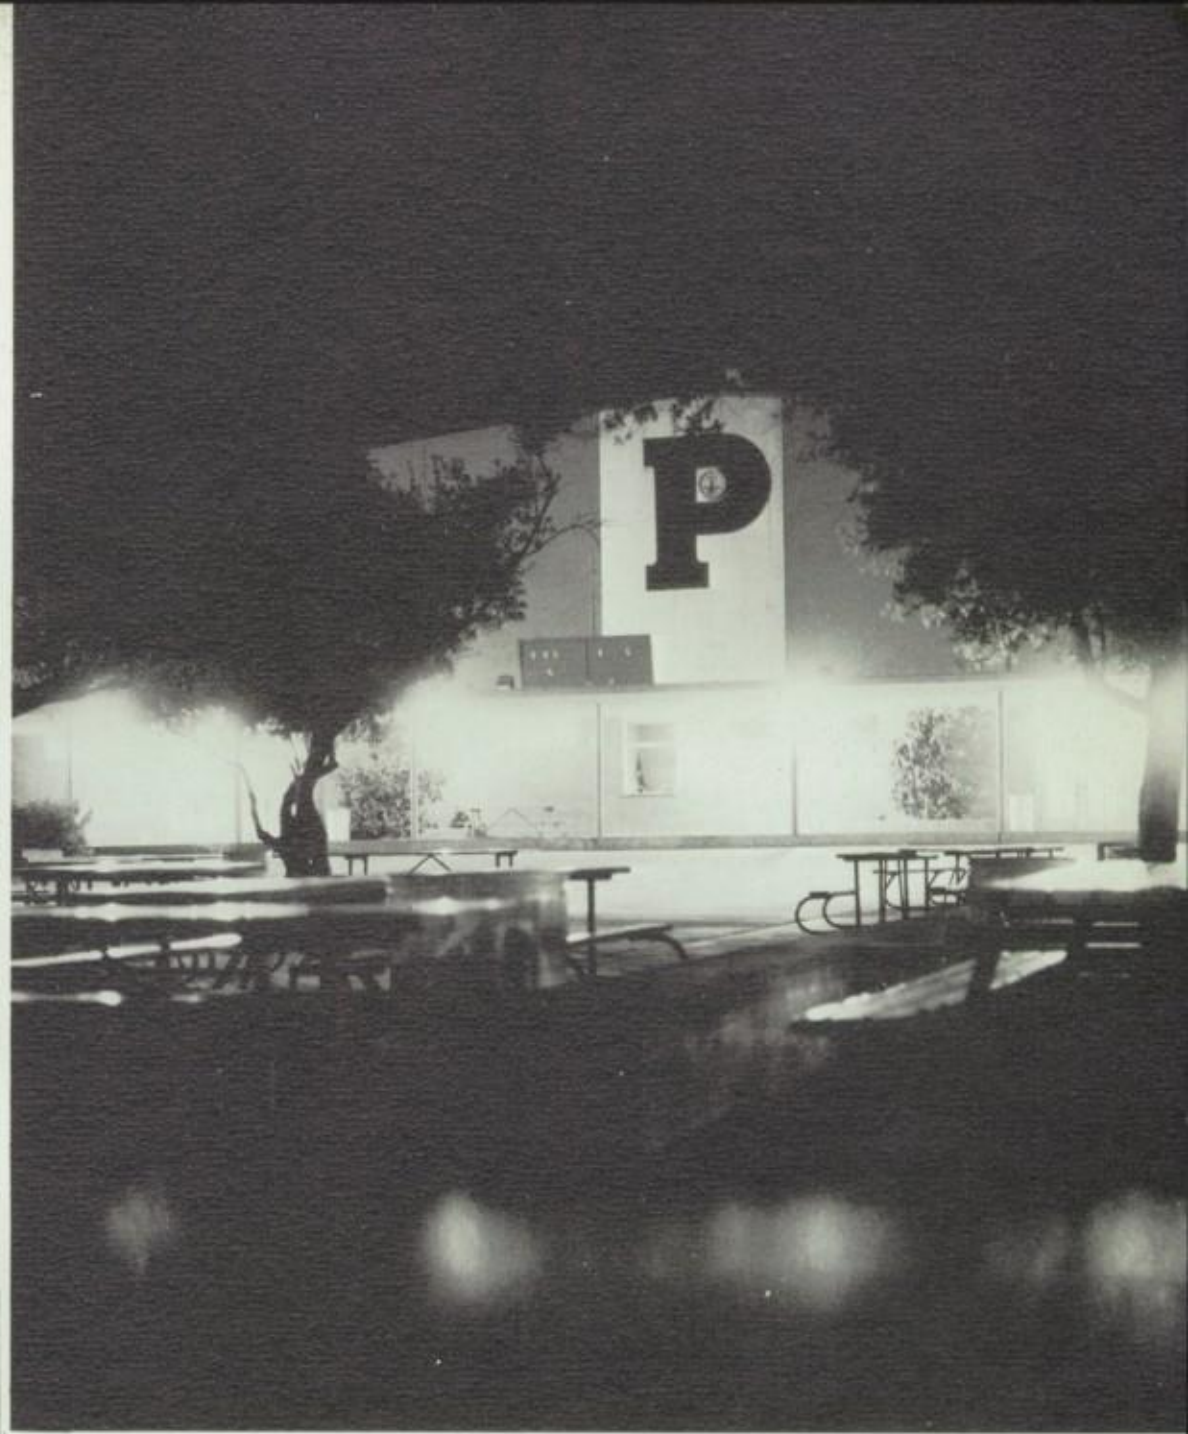

Phone exhibit thrilled senior Alan Jackson.

Driving skills were tested on the bumper cars.

THE QUAD

Quad reflected many aspects of student life at Pacific

Symbolic of an educational institute is a gathering place at which all factions of the student body congregate at their leisure. At Pacific High a traditional spot has been the quad. Each type of student, every type of personality could be observed before the 8:20 tardy bell, at the height of the lunch hour, or during the lonely moments after school. Memories were made at this maze of concrete benches and shade trees. During the course of daily living a student may not have appreciated these moments, but when reflecting upon his high school years, he will not have forgotten the delight, excitement and disappointment he experienced in the quad.

Eager anticipation, relief, and sadness will be the emotions reflected by seniors at graduation. It will be a time to take a careful look at our future and ourselves. For some there will be college and for others there will be employment. It will be a time for trying our wings, a time to practice what we have learned. Remember this also, and be well persuaded of its truth: the future is not in the hands of Fate, but in ours.

—Jules Jusserand

Often do the spirits of great events stride on before the events, in to-day already walks tomorrow.

SENIORS

David Brewer
President

"Integrity" is defined as the state of being complete; undivided; unbroken. As the Class of Integrity, the entire Senior class worked as a whole with the able leadership of officers and sponsors. Each endeavor was met as a unit, not as individuals, as the Class of 1968 prepared for their graduation.

With discretion, Mrs. Jeffords, Mr. Lopez, Mrs. Wiles, Mr. Lackner, and Miss Hempstead helped bring off a successful year for Senior Class.

Barbara and Ozzie helped count ballots to determine Senior Class name.

Arranging the Senior Directory involved hours of hard work for Linda Evans.

Pacific veterans who have died were honored by a plaque presented by the Class of 1967.

Susie displays the Pagettes Homecoming float trophy.

Class representative Tanya also worked as a secretary.

Linda was among the finalists for Grid Homecoming.

Practicing for another match, Ozzie tries to pin his rival.

Duffy displays her skill as a Flag to the student body.

Barbara does a dance routine gracefully to the music.

Studying the Constitution was only a part of the work. Lectures also provided usable knowledge.

Mr. Hoel and Mr. Lackner tried a new approach to teaching problems by combining their classes.

Listening to a court case was one part of a student trip to City Hall and the Police Department.

Meeting graduation prerequisites, PHS seniors enrolled in classes encompassing the Problems of Democracy. Highlighting the final year, seniors visited the San Bernardino City Hall and the Court House. In class, the students probed into the beginnings and the reasons supporting the origins of our country and its democratic system of law through lectures, films and forums.

COLLEGE PREPARATION

Intent Seniors Plan for Higher Education

Because of the increased importance placed on college degrees, Pacific offered much help in preparing for college educations. This aid begins with counselors who gathered information and advised their students. Seniors with outstanding scholastic records were interviewed and scholarships awarded to those who showed scholastic potential.

Representatives from many colleges came and talked to juniors and seniors about advantages of their schools.

Mrs. Lewis, a favorite counselor and teacher at Pacific, advises Alan Jackson on his college plans. (Right) Despite Lee's plea Joe thought he had found an easier way out than to go to college and is prepared to hang himself.

Jaci Jackson, Jim Roddy, Bobbi Cox and Wayne Deegan began the evening by viewing "Von Ryan's Express."

STUDENT NIGHT

Movie, Dinner, and Donkey

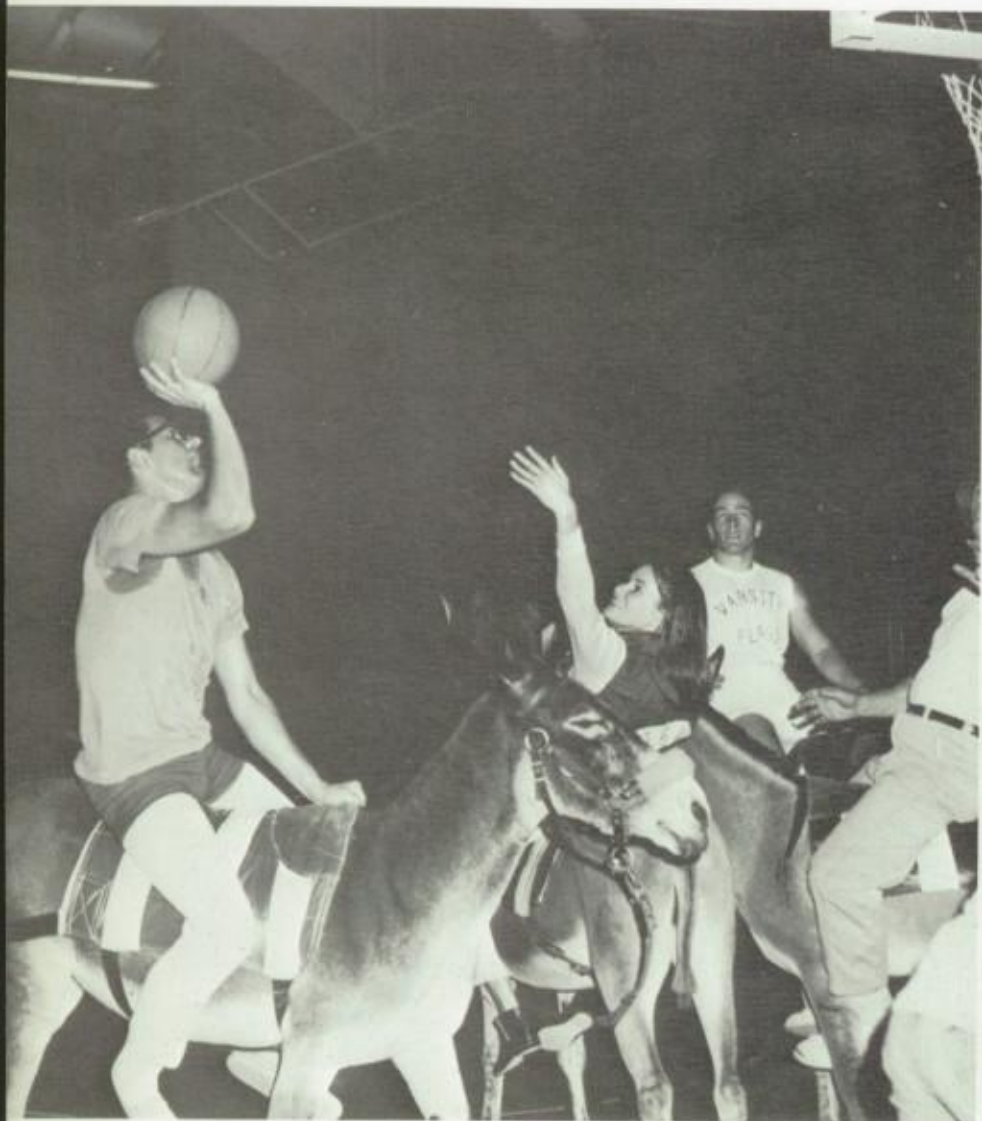

Basketball spelled success

For the first time in the history of Pacific High School, the student body sponsored Student Night. First on the agenda was a movie, "Von Ryan's Express," followed by a meal of hot dogs and Cokes, sold by the juniors. Highlight of the evening was the Donkey Basketball Game, which students lost to faculty.

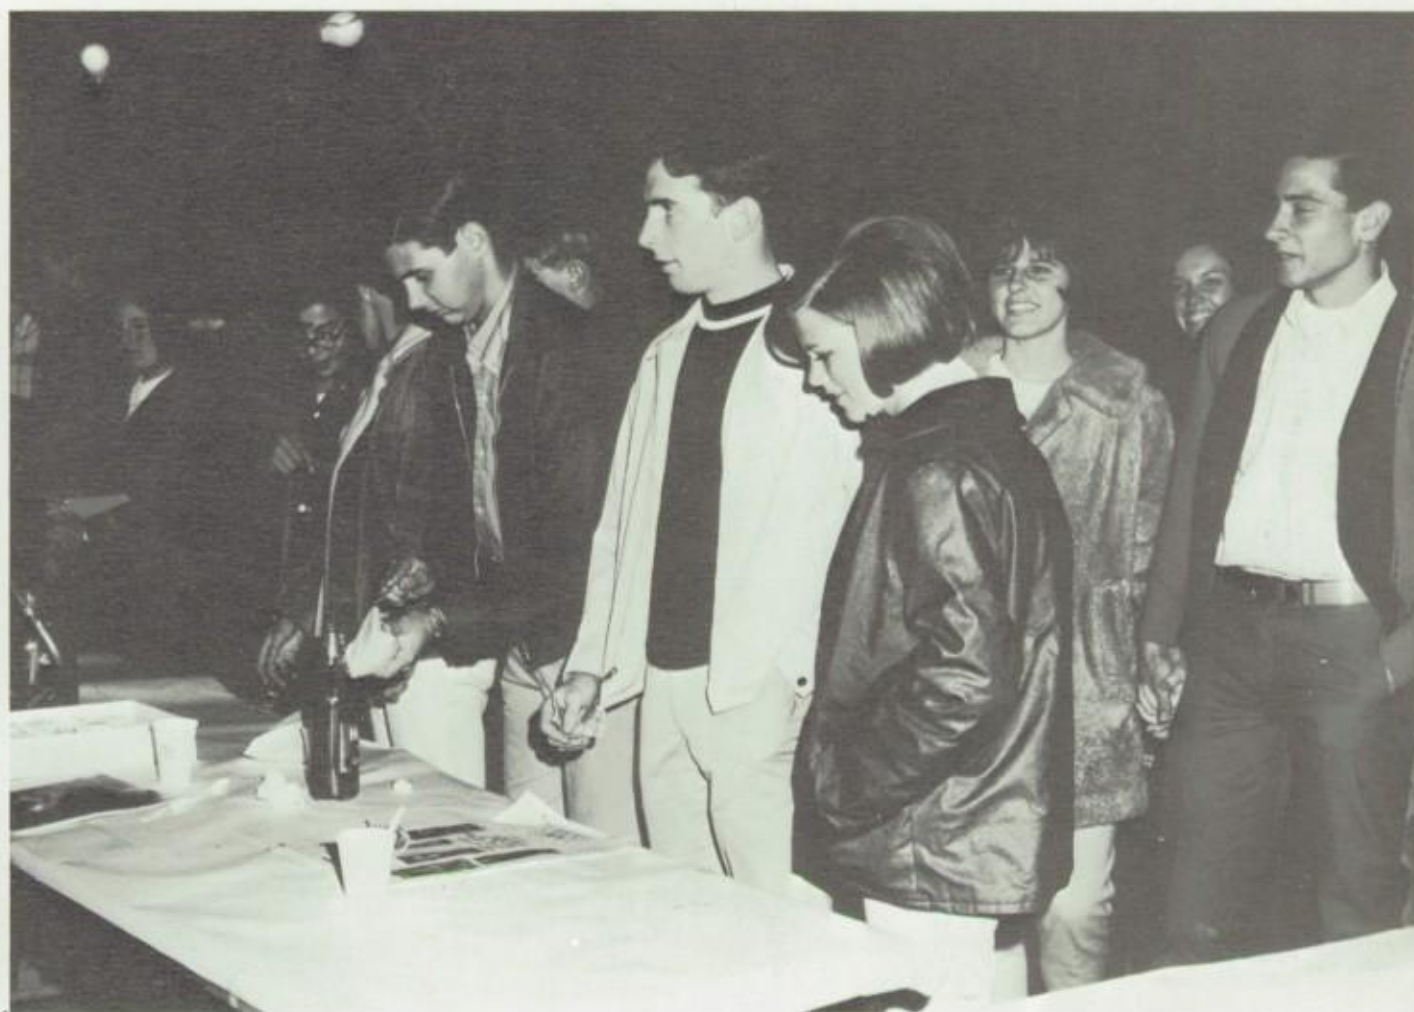

After dinner the couples went to the Donkey Basketball game. Here Neil Foley makes another shot for students.

During halftime activities the First Princess, luscious Della Deegan, watched as Martha Molony was crowned Donkey Basketball Queen.

As they entered the auditorium anticipating a good show, tickets were collected by juniors, sponsoring it to raise prom money.

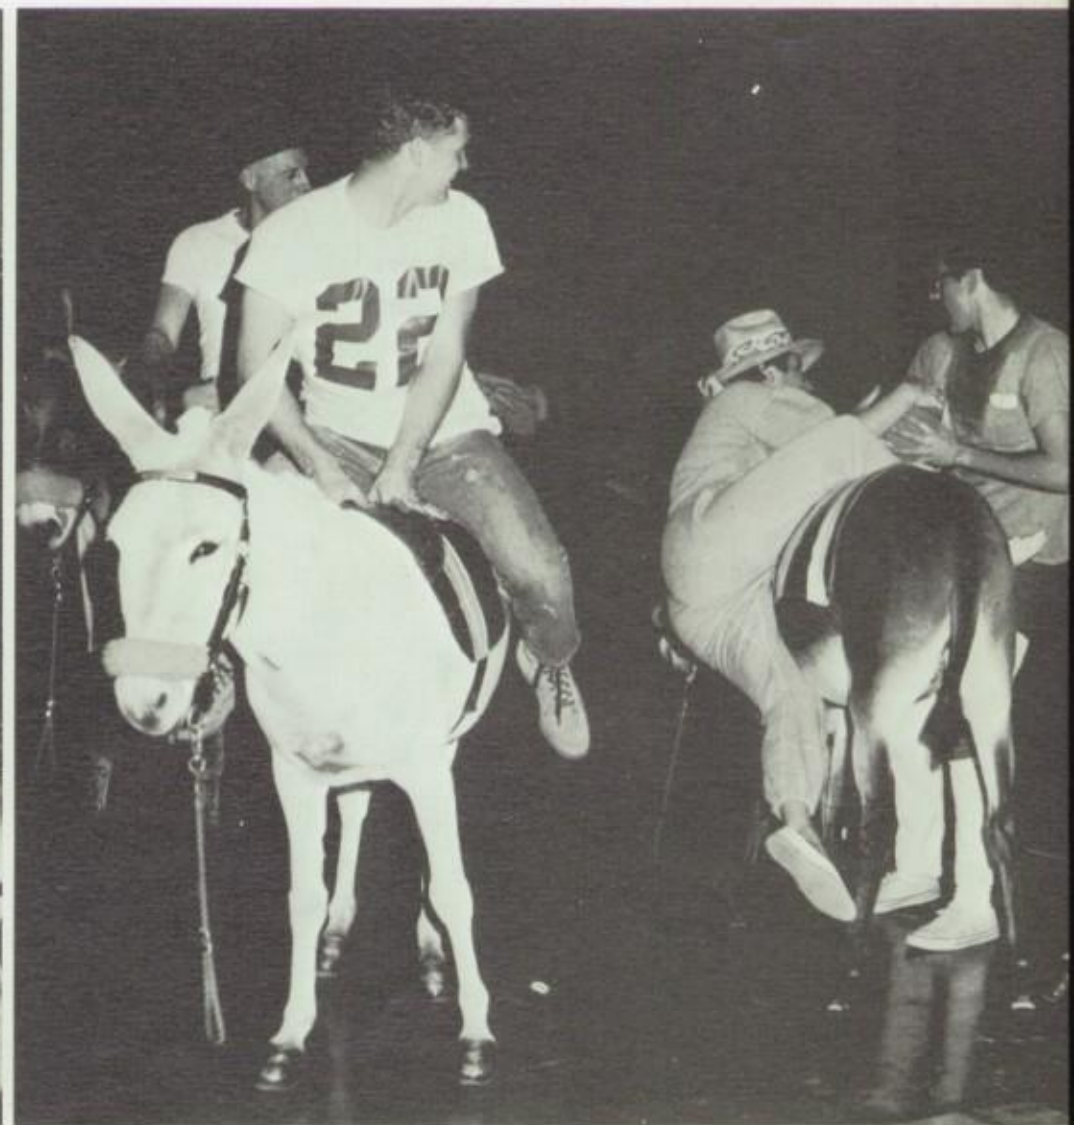

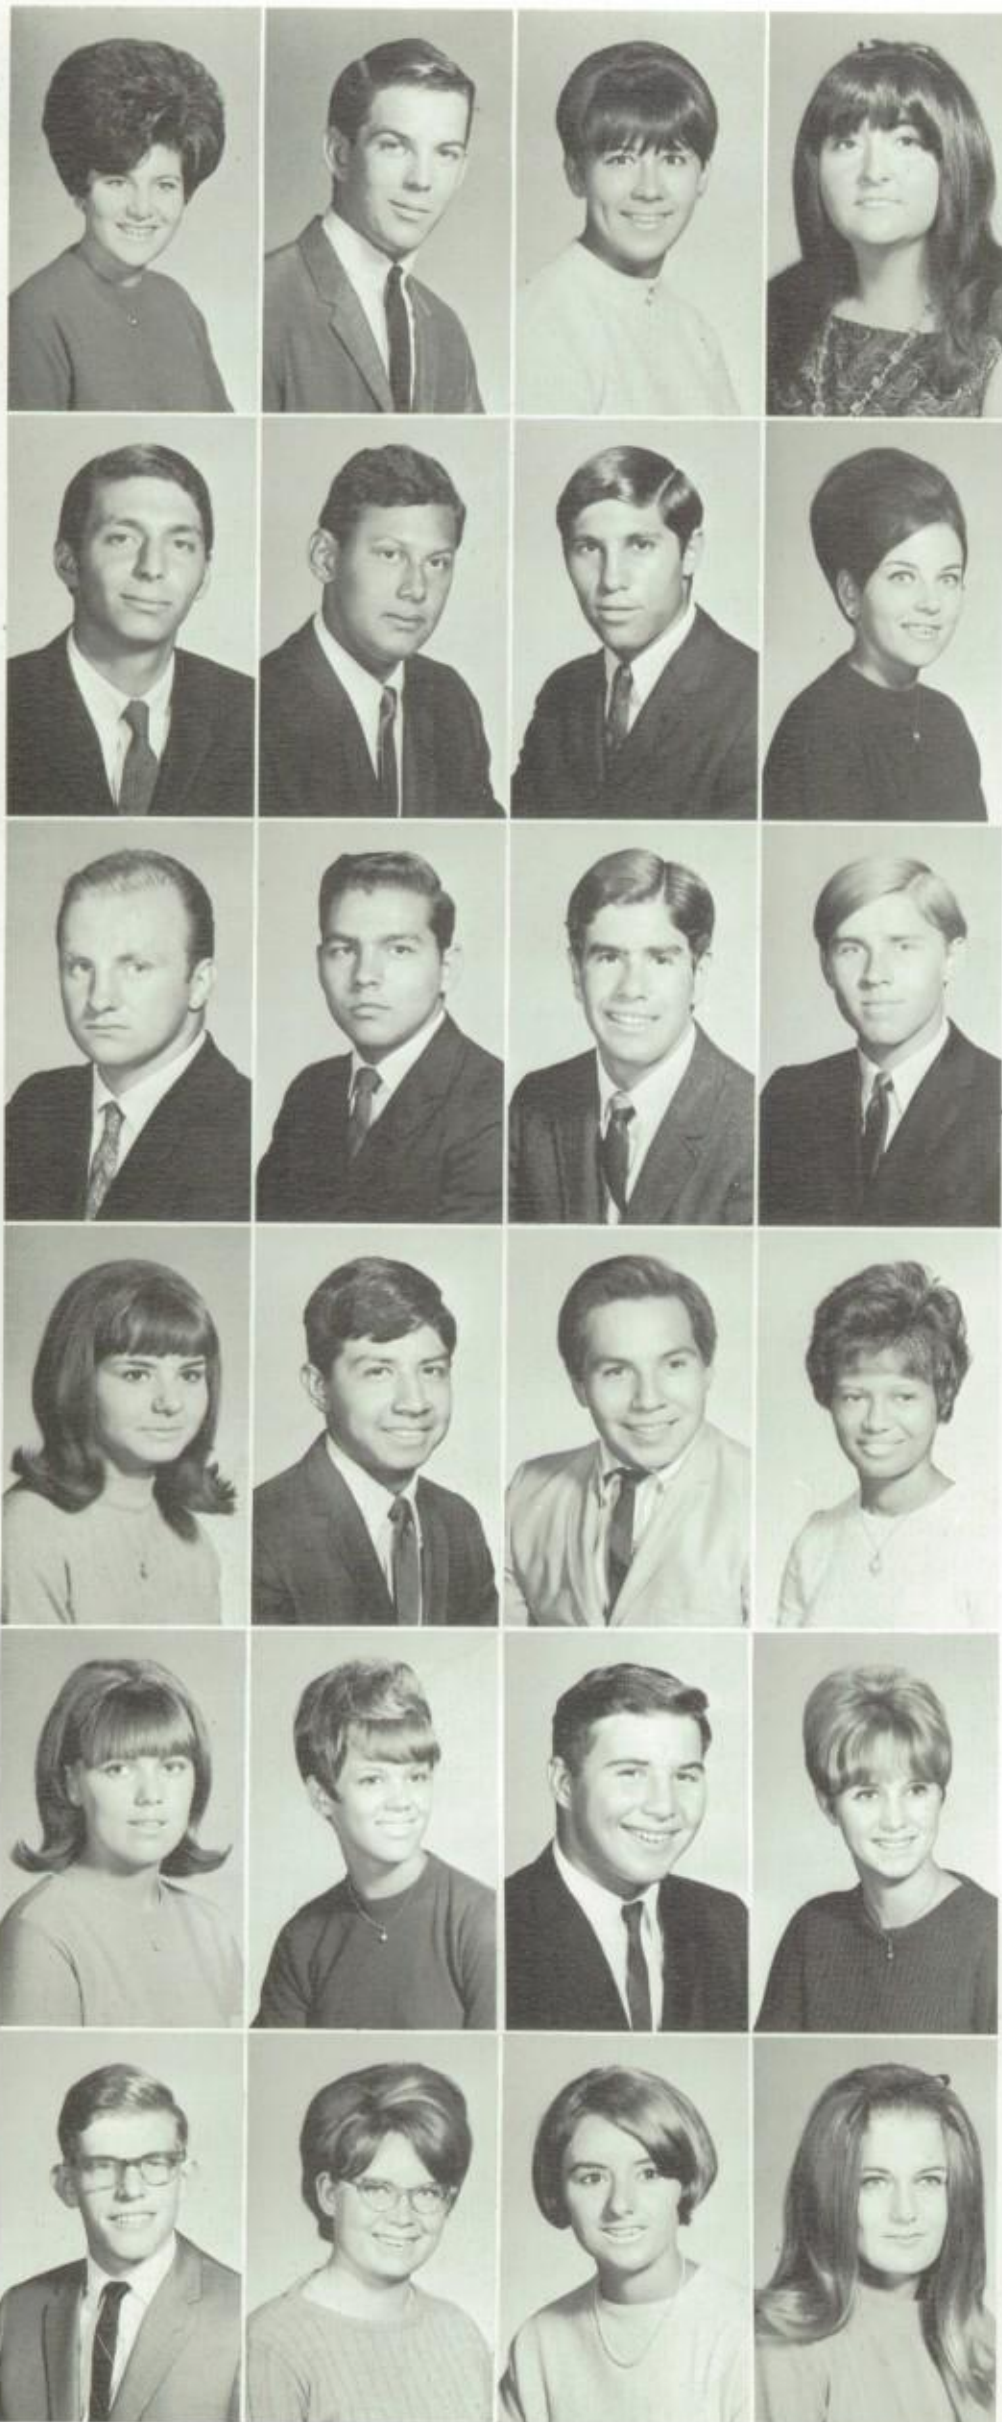

After the movie Wayne, Bobbi, Jaci and Jim had a snack—hot dogs and Cokes—sold on the Quad by the juniors.

As game action resumed, Bailey Brewer attempted a field goal while many senior spectators cheered for him to sink his shot.

Hazardous Hempstead fell from her donkey as she failed in an attempt to steal the ball from Foley.

SENIORS WHO EXCELLED

Many senior students at Pacific found fields in which, with some natural ability added to their hard work, they stood above all the average students. In reward for their efforts, many received scholarships, prizes and other awards. They also had the recognition and respect of their classmates. Because of their achievements, they found jobs easier to find and to handle.

Outstanding art students Peggy Dickson, Dave Watson and Nancy Taylor earned awards for their works exhibited in San Bernardino and Riverside.

Norbert, Jan and Ken did great photography for the annual. Outstanding architectural drafting students were Richard and Ron.

A vocabulary exercise for Spanish students Debbie Franklin, Rita Sampson and Donna Talcott was Spanish password.

Joe Charron was superintendent of the vocational auto shop.

Debbie McDermont was Bank of America Representative. C. Hanner and C. Harper excelled in welding.

Terry Parks excelled in woodshop by doing projects for school service.

Mimi and Barb found being office clerks a headache at times. Outstanding English students were Loven, McKelvy and Purvis.

Two outstanding seniors in the Music department were Ann Keller with her flute and David Snell with his trumpet.

THURS. JUNE 6

Senior Week Begins Finals

Confusion and indefinite schedules were characteristics of Senior Week this year. Of the activities constituting the week, Graduation and Grad Night at Disneyland will long be remembered by seniors as highlights of a long, hard school career.

Steve, Diana, Wendy and Neil represented hours of hard, mindracking work, cramming for their finals.

Slaving over final exams, industrious seniors worked for high marks in Miss Hempstead's English classes.

FRI. JUNE 7

Receive Caps & Gowns Baccalaureate Practice Senior Class Picture Finals

Seniors anxiously stood in line to obtain their caps and gowns, to be worn during the Graduation exercises.

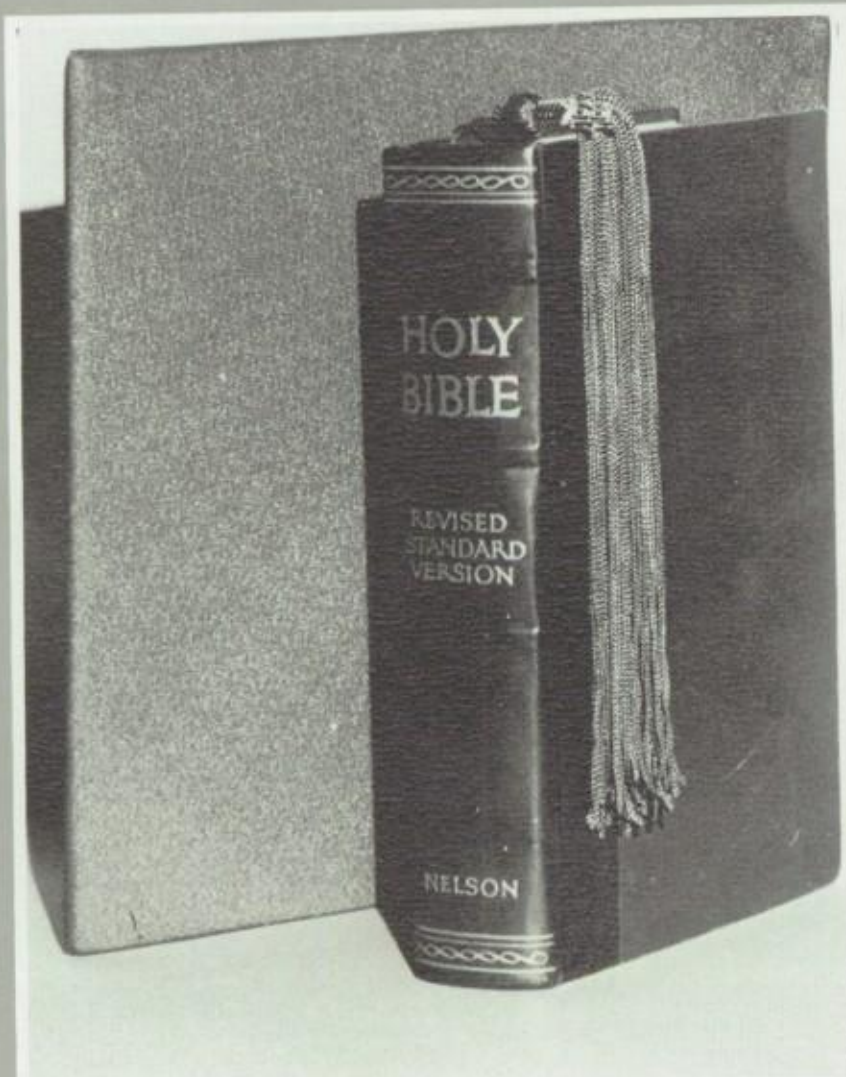

After three years of accumulation, Eddie Imsand finally returned his books and paid his bill to Connie Sintetos.

SUN. JUNE 9

Baccalaureate Service

President Hansen of the Church of the Latter Day Saints delivered the sermon for the '68 Baccalaureate services.

MON. JUNE 10

Awards Assembly Finals

Maintaining tradition, Mike Molony felt it was his duty to see how many Juniors' rings he could turn.

One of the seniors receiving awards was Bob Fredericks, chosen one of the Bank of America winners.

TUES. JUNE 11

Senior Picnic
Senior Swim

Seniors waited expectantly in line to receive their annuals and look at the records of their experiences during the year.

At one of their last social activities together as a senior class before graduation, the class of 1968 enjoyed an afternoon

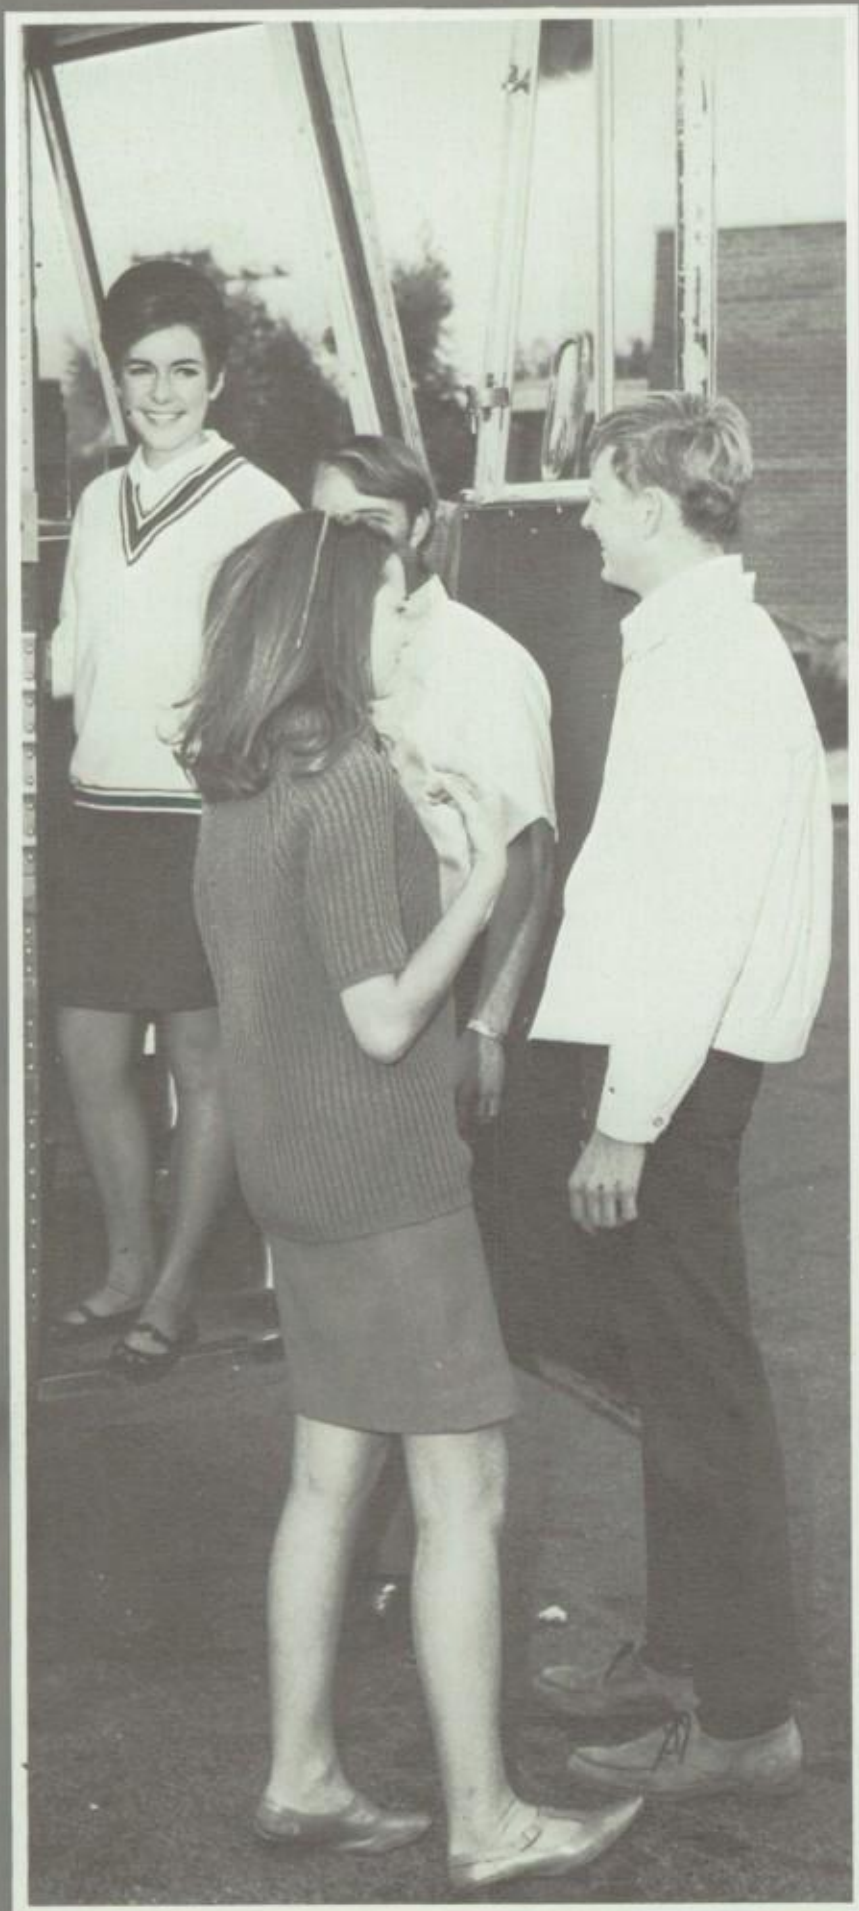

Perris Hill Park was unanimously decided upon by seniors as a more appropriate place than the quad for eating lunch, of fun and games at the senior picnic and swim. Here Seniors forgot problems and frustrations encountered at Pacific.

WED. JUNE 12

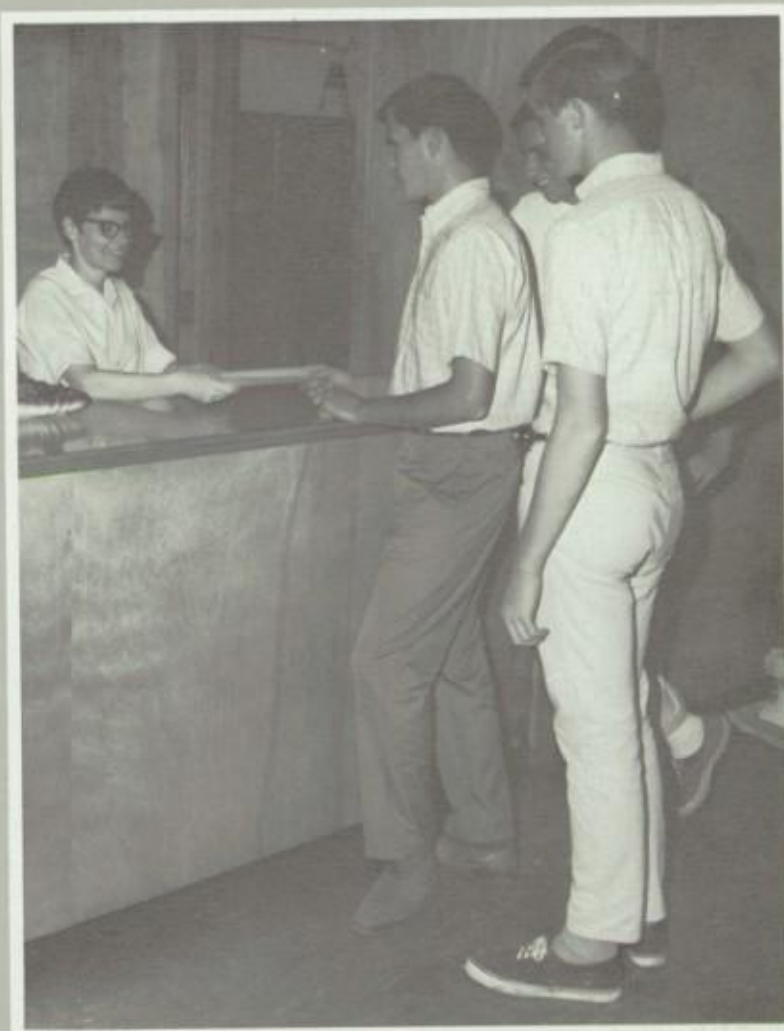

Graduation Departure for Disneyland

After graduation, seniors boarded the bus and departed for a memorable evening at the Disneyland Grad Nite.

THURS. JUNE 13

Last Day of School Pick up Diplomas

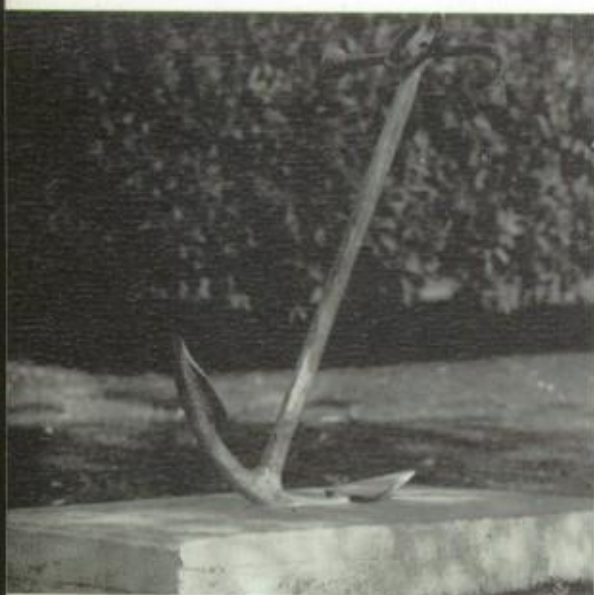

Pat, John and Fred eagerly received their diplomas. This was the reward for their years of hard work.

Throughout senior week, seniors were found almost anywhere on campus at almost any time of day.

ALMA MATER

Pacific High we love so well,
 With pride and joy our praises swell.
 Faith, devotion all to thee:
 Our Alma Mater ever be.
 For thy learning rich and pure
 For all thy training strong and sure
 We will pledge our loyalty:
 Pacific High, all hail to thee!

SPORTS

Strong, aggressive and fierce, like the fighting hawk, Pacific's athletic teams compiled a winning record. In competition, the incentive of "First Class All The Way" was handed from team to team. The sports field was also one for learning the importance of teamwork, loyalty, sportsmanship and the desire to win.

Excellent Coaching Puts Pacific on Top

Pacific conquered all CBL teams and went on to CIF competition only to be defeated in quarter finals by Santa Ana. The Pirate defense was one of the best in the state. Cliff Clubreath made a touchdown on a tackle eligible pass in the Redlands game. Coach Caulo led the team to victory ably assisted by George Tesla, John Marman, and Harold Beach. Pacific triumphed over old rival San Bernardino High. Redlands had a tough team and promised to be a major rival.

Pacific Pounds Berdoo 38-0

The Pirates ground out 309 yards rushing while holding the Cards to 46 and marched to a 16 to 6 edge in first downs. Starring in the 38-0 romp: Larry Jackson, Mike McCuiston, Keith Bailey, and Tim Williams to name a few. Jackson raced for 168 yards in 28 carries; Williams hammered out 66 yards in six carries.

Bailey fends off determined Redlands foe for substantial gain.

Jackson's efforts meet stiff opposition.

Trapped by Redlands lineman, Williams seeks exit.

The titanic struggle between the Terriers and Pirates came to an end with Pacific on top 13-6. Tim Williams led the attack making 71 yards rushing and 19 carries, with Jackson close behind totaling 62 yards in 18 packs. Surprise of the game was a tackle eligible pass to Culbreath, who hustled over for a Pirate victory.

Pirates Ruin Redlands 13-6

Keith Bailey pitches out to Larry Jackson on an option play as Cliff Culbreath makes a tremendous effort to block Chaffey linemen. Jackson picked up about seven yards on the carry to help the Pirates win 14-7 for their sixth victory of the season.

Pacific Wrecks

Ramona 37-12

The Pirates pounded out a 37-12 victory over the relentless Rams in their second CBL contest. Pacific picked up 358 yards rushing to the Rams' meager 17 yards. Larry Jackson made a spectacular 61-yard touchdown dash to wrap up the game for Pacific.

Eagles Emaciated

After 49-0 Loss

It was Pacific all the way for an easy win over the Eagles. Touchdowns were made by Brewer, McCuiston, Betts, Williams and Robinson. Buc gridders scrambled for 12 first downs, holding the Eagles to a scant three.

Pirates Skin Tigers 14-6

Chaffey High was the only major obstacle for Pacific to overcome in the race for the CBL crown. The Tigers used a unique offense in an effort to offset the Buc defense. This endeavor deceived the Pirates for a few plays but it ended in a loss for Chaffey.

Tim Williams spotted gap between two Chaffey defenders and lunged for it.

Pirate Heat Melts Steelers 32-0

The Pacific-Fontana game was a runaway with Pacific doing most of the running. The Bucs had 10 first downs to the Steelers two. Tim Williams was the top rusher of the game with an average of about six yards per carry. Cliff Culbreath suffered an eye injury.

Quarterback Keith Bailey swept end to make enough yardage for first down.

Dodging two San Geronio tacklers Bernard Thompson cut around left end.

Pacific Slashes Spartans 15-0

San Geronio Spartans were the most surprising team that Pacific encountered this season. Their defense was outstanding in all aspects. At one time they held the Pirates on the one-yard line. The final score, however, proved which team was better.

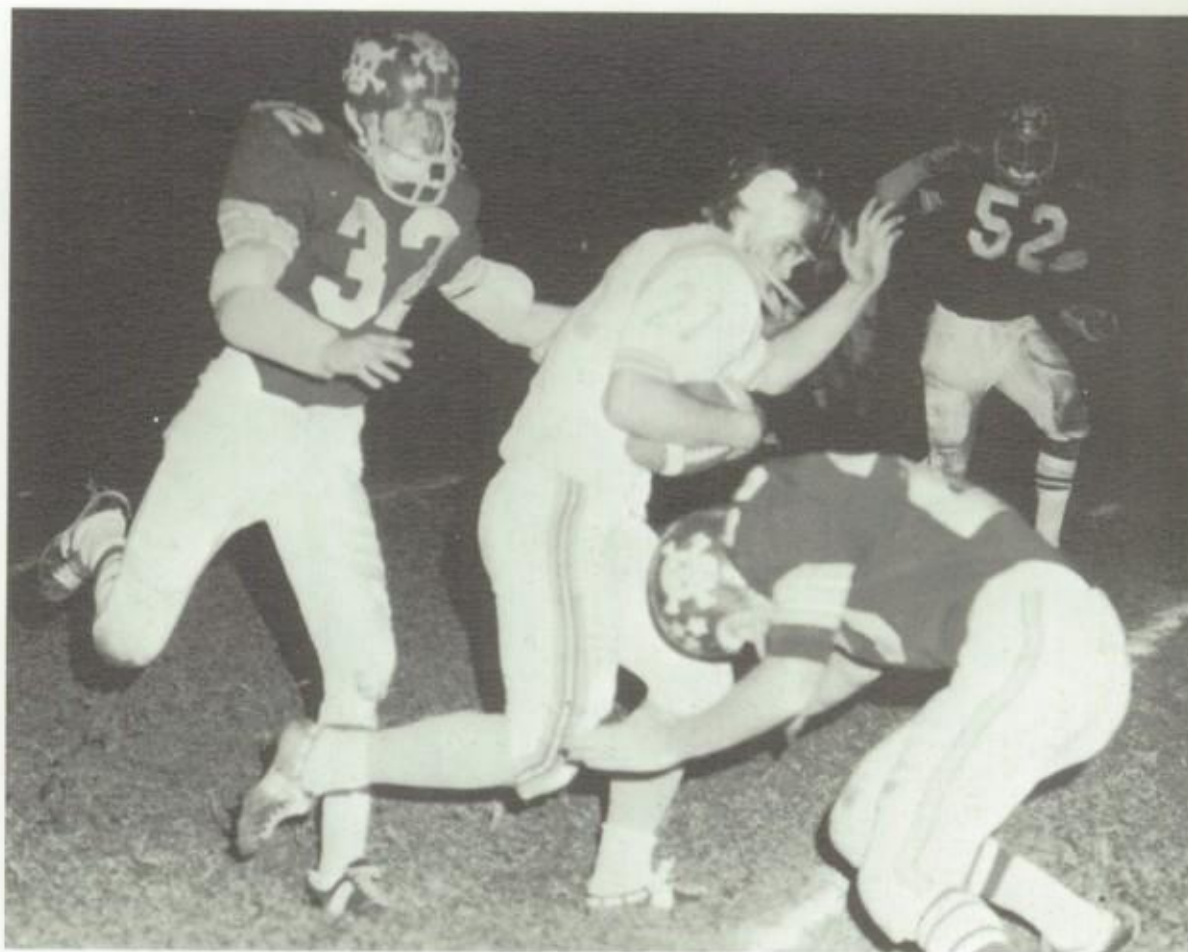

Pacific Upsets

West Covina

Making their way to CIF playoffs the Pirates took on the Covina Spartans and beat them. The score in the third period was 7-0 Pacific's favor. The Spartans recovered a fumble and then scored, making it 7-7. CIF rules state that whoever has the most first downs is the winner. Pacific had nine to West Covina's four.

Pirates Fall To Santa Ana

Challenging number one team in the state, Pirates met Santa Ana and fell to them. Santa Ana continued in the CIF playoffs but was defeated by Anaheim in the Rosebowl. Santa Ana had 13 downs to Pacific's six. Pirates scored only once on a pass. This game ended the Pirates' chance of going further in CIF games.

Unanimous All-CIF

Cliff Culbreath, one of Pacific's great grid players, was offered several scholarships to colleges around the country. Coach Ralph Caulo was quoted as saying, "He's never played a bad game. He led the team in tackles, was an inspirational leader and was consistently great in all games." This year's team was best yet.

The Junior Varsity has had better seasons than this year's. However, eight of the JV players were able to suit up with the Varsity squad to help defeat Eisenhower because of their good performance in JV games. They were Sonny Davis, Ken Bailey, Mike Carey, Norman Shaddox, Chris Smith, Lee Hills, and Bill Pogey. Many of the team will make fine Varsity players in coming years. Team members worked especially hard to make this a winning group. Coach Grenfell did a fine job of leading them.

The Bees battled their way through five teams undefeated only to be toppled by the ferocious Chaffey Tigers 20-0. The Pirates grueling defense turned away the Redlands Terriers 12-0. Pacific then traveled to Rialto and took on the Eagles. The game came off without a hitch with the score 26-7. The Steelers were no problem for the Pirates. The score was 47-0. The Bees placed second in the CBL. Coach Niemeyer led the team to this year's great season. The team's future is promising.

CROSS COUNTRY

Pacific placed 8th and 11th in the Louis Finn Memorial Invitational. Crescenta Valley won the large schools' title, and Colton High outlasted Victor Valley for the small schools' title. Ramona High beat Pacific by a score of 21-40 in CBL contest. Lasky was 3rd and Smith 4th to lead the Varsity. JV standouts were Peter Harmon and Fred Gould, who made 3rd and 5th, respectively. Redlands beat Pacific 23-37. Jim Byer and Haskel Herndon led the Junior Varsity who lost to Redlands with a score of 18-51. The JV's and Sophomores will make fine Varsity runners next year.

PACIFIC'S WRESTLING TEAM TAKES 1ST IN THE CIF FINALS

Pacific High successfully defended its CIF wrestling championship as Eddie Oquendo, Felix Vargas and John Abad won individual titles. Oquendo won for the second straight year at 98 pounds. Vargas captured the 115-pound class and Abad prevailed at 130. John Potts, a 194-pounder, finished fourth as the Pirates amassed 49 points. Runner-up was Kennedy of Buena Park, who totaled 36. The Chaffey team ended in fourth place. The team's success is attributed to the superb leadership of Coach Liles. He has led the team for 10 years, has had 10 CBL victories and two years of CIF wins.

Pirates End Season: 15-11 Record

The 1968 Pacific Varsity Basketball team made a fine showing for our school. The Pirates, who last year won the consolation bracket in the Kiwanis Tournament, placed fifth as they lost to Anaheim. Pacific's victories were over the Costa Mesa, El Monte and Ramona hoopsters. We consistently played well.

'68 Varsity Basketball Team starting left to right: Larry Jackson, Mike McCuistion, Wayne Deegan, Scott Kay, Larry Lockridge, Rick Kay, Doug Howard, Mike Molony, Sam Cash, Calvin Hobbs, Lloyd Griffin, Jim Roddy, Ron Johnston, Mark Levin.

Rick Kay; Outstanding Player

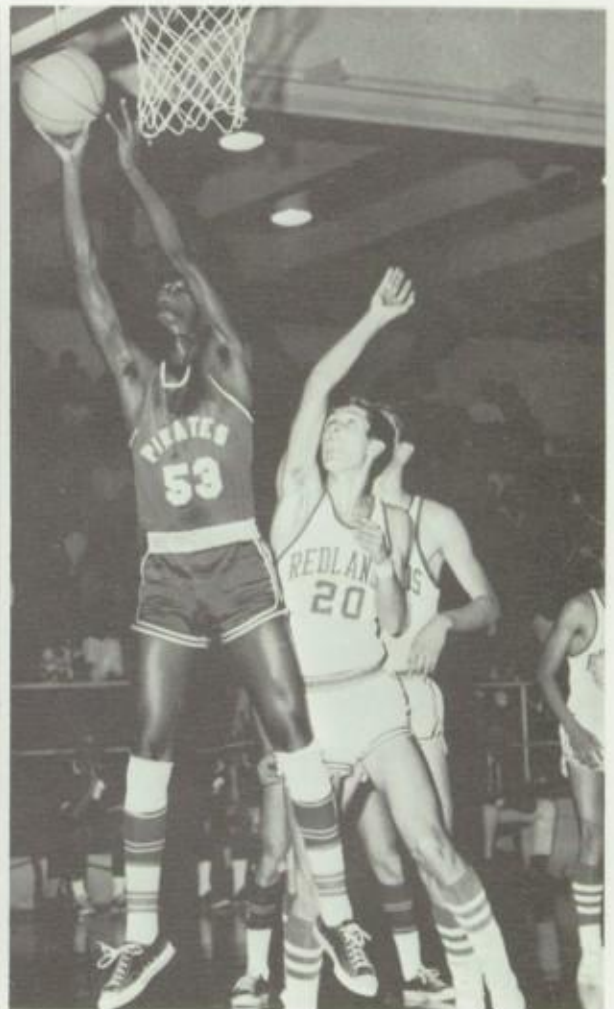

When quizzed about Rick Kay, Coach Hackleman had this to say: "Rick has been a fine performer for Pacific in the last two years. Because of his versatility, he has been able to do an all-around job in basketball. He was able to take the ball inside on the post, or bring it down against a press. His fine shooting ability enabled him to do many things. Rick is undoubtedly one of the all-time fine performers for Pacific High." Students at Pacific agree with the coach.

SWIMMING

Plunging into the water in an attempt to capture the CIF and CBL titles was our aqueous Bee, Cee and Varsity Swim Teams. Pacific's teams were ruled by Coach Denny Williams, who provided valuable assistance to all members. In the tough Redlands Optimist Invitational Swim Relays Coach Williams' B Swim Team placed fourth in the relays. Our swim team also met Poly of Riverside in a dual meet, and later in the same month met the team from Chaffey in a meet.

Pacific Spikers Fall To Cross — town Rival In CBL Action But . . .

Meeting Pacific in a meet at San Bernardino against crosstown rival San Bernardino was Pacific's famed tracksters. Our specialty was the shotput which saved Pirates from total humiliation with a fine toss of 50'-6½" by Randy Wilkenson. The meet was taken by San Bernardino with a final score of 85 to our 33.

Come Back To Take Chaffey- Winning By A Close 7 Points

Pacific battled against Chaffey in a track meet here. The major disappointment of the meet was the failure of Cathcart (60-2) and Pacific's Randy Wilkinson (60-1½) to meet in the shot put. Pacific triumphed with a score of 57½ to Chaffey's 50½. This gave Pacific two wins and three losses in the CBL competition.

TENNIS '68

Pacific's Varsity team started a successful season by scoring the first season victory against Riverside Poly 5-2. They continued to rally Monrovia to a 4-3 victory, and went on to defeat Garey 6-1, and SBHS 6-1. In spite of their many victories, they fell to SGHS 4-3. The Junior Varsity was almost as successful as the Varsity. They won over Riverside Poly 6-1, over Garey 4½-1½, defeated Apple Valley 6-1, and scored against SBHS 7-0. The JVs lost to both Monrovia and to SGHS with the same score, 4-3.

Varsity Baseball

Pacific's Varsity Baseball Team started off the season with a victory over Colton and Riverside Poly. Pacific also mastered San Geronio and Chaffey. The team was under the expert eye of Coach Elton who praised his team for their great showing throughout the season. At mid-season they had a 4-5-1 record.

FALL SPORTS

Physical Education class was an important part of every school day at Pacific. And for the girls (the weaker sex?) there were no exceptions. Fall sports included such muscle builders as tumbling, modern and folk dancing, tennis, track and field sports, field hockey and badminton. Participation in sports helped the girls in the development of sportsmanship, team spirit, coordination and competitiveness.

Bottom: Engaged in a close game of badminton, Maddy Pfau and Roxanne Jones display skill.

SPRING SPORTS

As spring flourished in the air, the Girls' Athletic Department also flourished as various activities kept them busy and physically fit. These spring activities were enthusiastically performed for grade points. Sports included basketball, softball and handball. Girls participated readily as techniques were interesting.

Top right: Learning basic skills and techniques of basketball was just as important as the game.

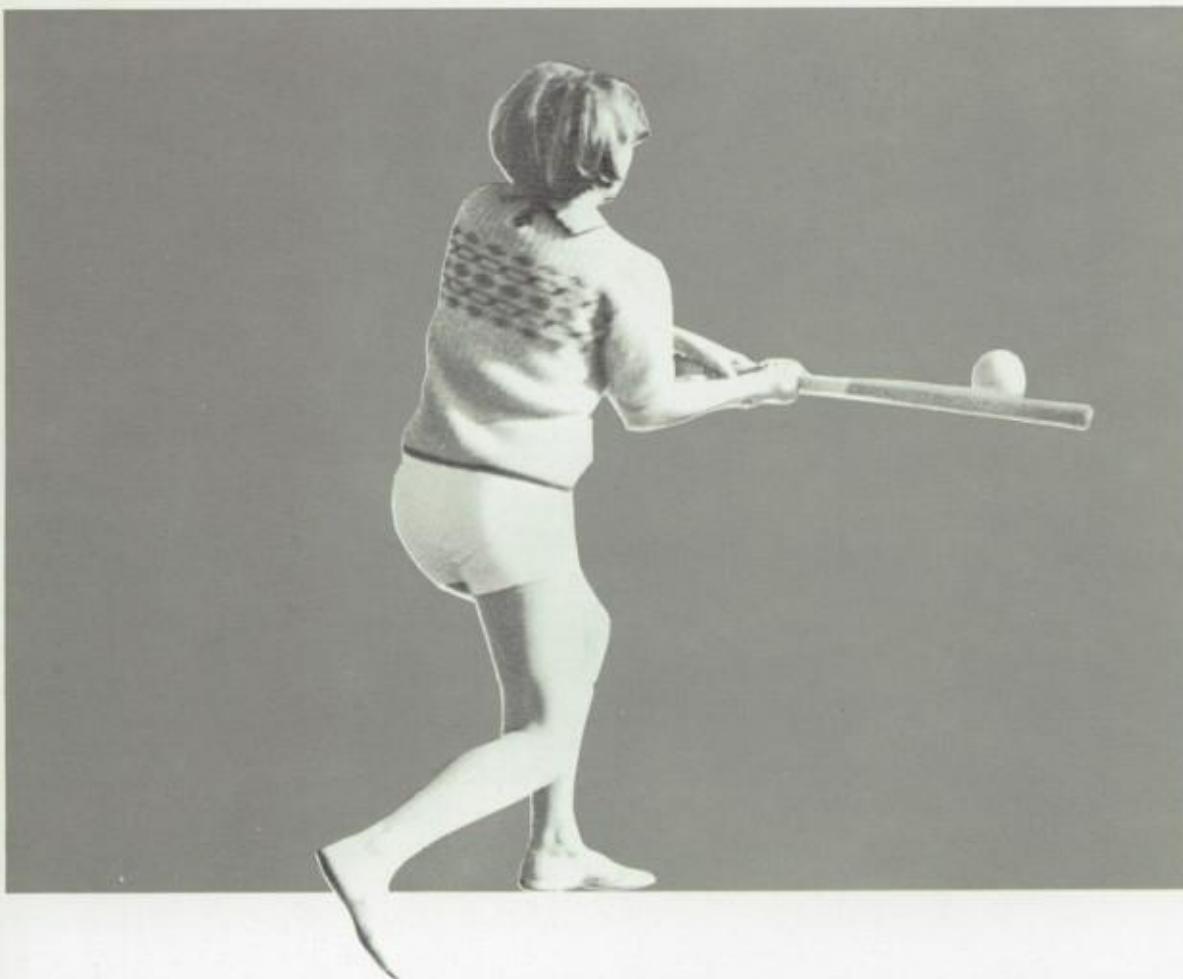

Center right: "Strike three and you're out!" But another try at bat might prove more successful.

Bottom: Eagerness and vitality were necessary requirements for a good game of volleyball.

GAA

Attempting to give the more athletically inclined girl broader fields in physical education, the Girls' Athletic Association provided a varying schedule of activities. Many of these activities were covered in the regular gym classes, but members found numerous after-school hours were needed to retain membership in the club. GAA also promoted such activities as judo, bowling and golf. These sports were not included in the Pacific girls' regular schedule of athletic classes.

Above: Armed with sticks, GAA members play field hockey.

Below: Basketball provided a strenuous workout for the girls.

Mid-way in their high school education, juniors found themselves confronted with the responsibility of planning the Prom and the growing nearness of college intentions and vocational plans. Like the pelican who falters in his first attempt to fly, many juniors were at first overwhelmed. Once adjusted, the juniors, like the pelican, were outstanding in their endeavors.

Striving for the best junior year yet, junior officers provided throughout the year the unity necessary for the making of a successful and creative class. (L. to R.) Mike Sites, Representative; Roxanne Jones, Secretary; Kris Anderson, Treasurer; John Nixdorf, President; Cathi Monniger, Representative; Barry Crane, Vice-President; and John Sipma, Representative.

In action, all seven officers contributed their share and did their parts to build the junior class. With the support and encouragement of the school as a whole, the juniors were able to excel in every aspect.

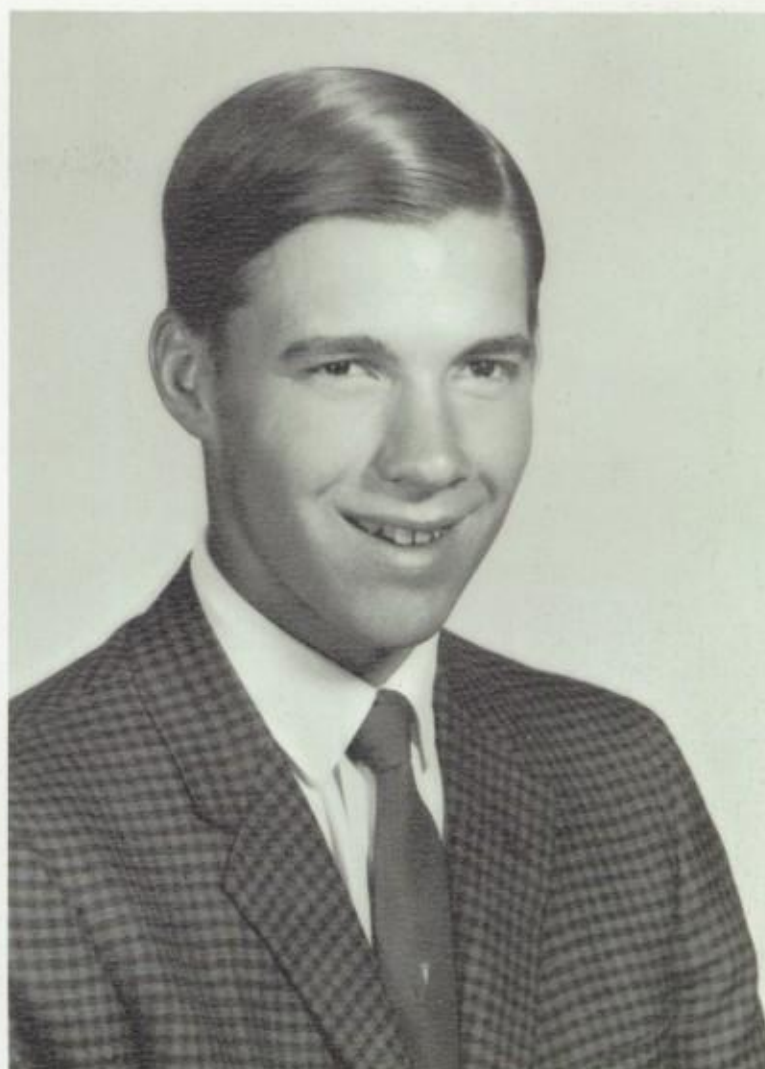

JUNIOR CLASS 1968

For the first time in nine years the Junior Class moved the Prom off campus to the Orange Show. This proved to be a successful idea. With great initiative and enthusiasm the class spent many long hours raising the necessary funds for this affair. Among projects were a pickle sale, car wash, movies, candy sale, and the Back-to-School Night Bake Sale.

John Nixdorf

Sponsoring juniors demanded much extra time on the parts of (L.to R.), Mr. Fotia, Miss Fontaine, Mr. Havemann, Miss Cerceres, and Mr. Herran. Each of these teachers aided the class in all their various functions and projects.

CLASS RINGS

As in the past, the juniors purchased their class rings early in the school year. The ring this year was carefully selected by the Junior Officers. With a new style ring, the juniors had difficulty deciding which stone they wanted, the stone Zunzite, or a Tiger Eye. In the spring, the anxious junior class received the long awaited purchases. At this time, many rings changed hands with the desire of going steady. At the end of their junior year, opening the door for a rewarding and fun-filled senior year.

With the excitement of receiving their rings, Nancy, Maddie, and Bob pause to examine them. Wearing these rings brings pride to each Pacific High Pirate.

Admiring the class rings, Jeri and Jim decided on which style they preferred.

PROM '68

Magic of Mauna Loa

Two years of planning and financing led to production of the 1968 Junior-Senior Prom. The gala affair was held for the first time in over a decade in the Kaiser Dome at the National Orange Show. With a theme of "Magic of Mauna Loa," this Polynesian paradise enchanted all who attended. May 11 was an evening to be remembered by every couple at the Prom.

Prom night: Enhanced by the atmosphere created by the Polynesian theme, Ron Jarvis and Lillian Lebeck share the mood together. Dining out first, they then attended "Magic of Mauna Loa," theme for Pacific High School's annual prom.

OUTSTANDING JUNIORS

Excelling in various areas, these juniors represent their class as outstanding students at Pacific. Because of their special abilities, they, and other junior students like them, make the Junior Class "number one all the way" as Pirates at Pacific High School.

Juniors in chorus exhibit their considerable ability in the field of music.

Offered a position with the Young Americans, nationwide vocal group, Elery Flores displays singing talent.

Preparing the 1968 Pacificana for publication was more than just classwork. It was a responsibility assumed by each member of the staff. The juniors did their share, working as an editor, or taking orders from one. After the 1968 book was completed, they chose editors for next year's publication and the pleasurable cycle began all over again.

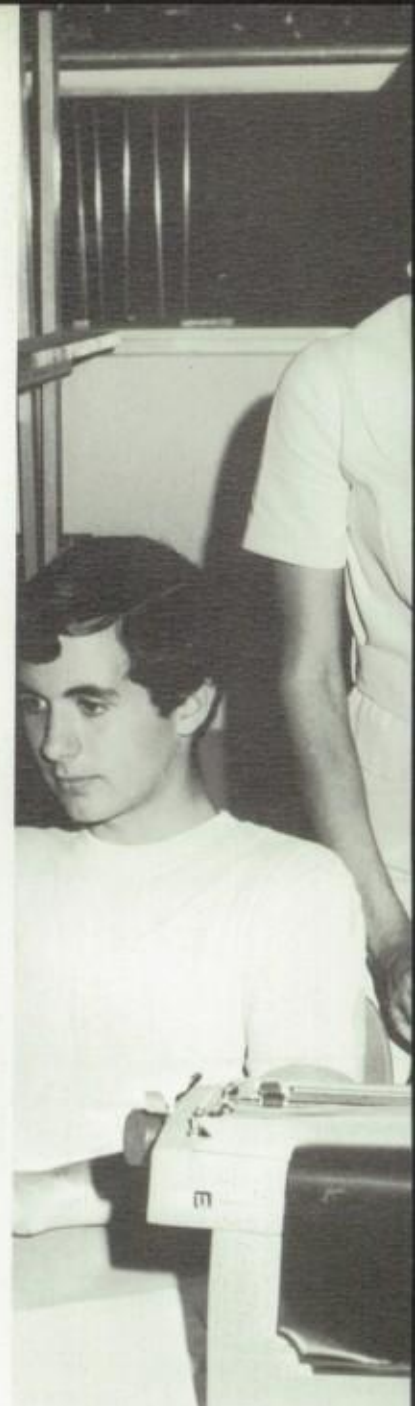

Roxanne Jones and Maddie Pfau print advertisements for selling Pacificana.

ACADEMICS

Sharp and quick to comprehend, the road runner is likened to the academic side of Pacific. Comprehending, understanding, mastering were three key words to scholastic success. Vocational classes gave students an opportunity to develop skills of the working world. To those preparing for college, classes in English, history, languages, math, science provided a stimulating challenge to inquiring minds.

As a field, however fertile, cannot be fruitful without cultivation, neither can a mind without learning.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Leading Us
'First Class'

Proudest moments of our lives are those when we can look back on a job we have finished well. I was proud to represent a high school which has marked itself as a leader in all fields of endeavor be it academic or athletic. As the waning days of this year pass on, I look back to a year when Pacific High proved to all Pirates and faculty that it goes "First Class All the Way."

Dictating an agenda for the following meeting to Secretary Patty McGinty is Speaker of the House Brent Miller. Each was involved in House duties.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Initiating Interest

Discussing campus problems in the House of Representatives were the elected student representatives from English classes. They voiced many topical subjects under the leadership of Brent Miller. Invited as a guest speaker to inform the students on the influence of city government was Mayor Al Ballard. Completing a number of effective changes on campus, Representatives ended a fruitful year.

Preparing for one of the many sessions of competition was Nicki Russler who researched in the Pacific Library.

Practicing for their trial quizzes were some of the High School Bowl team. Daily drill was important to practices.

Tim Williams and Mr. Brickley were frequently involved in important meetings to discuss the affairs of student council.

To increase their funds, the House of Representatives sold doughnuts before and after school to students.

HIGH SCHOOL BOWL Intellectual Response

Representing Pacific High School in High School Bowl competition were some of the most outstanding students in our fourteen year history. Fast recall and quick responses helped the team as they finished a victorious season in league competition. Richard Bass and Roger Teal gave additional incentive at practice meetings. Mr. Letro and Mr. Havemann worked closely with the team, driving them to success.

The two advisors of the High School Bowl team were constantly found coaching their highly successful group. Here they review the current news.

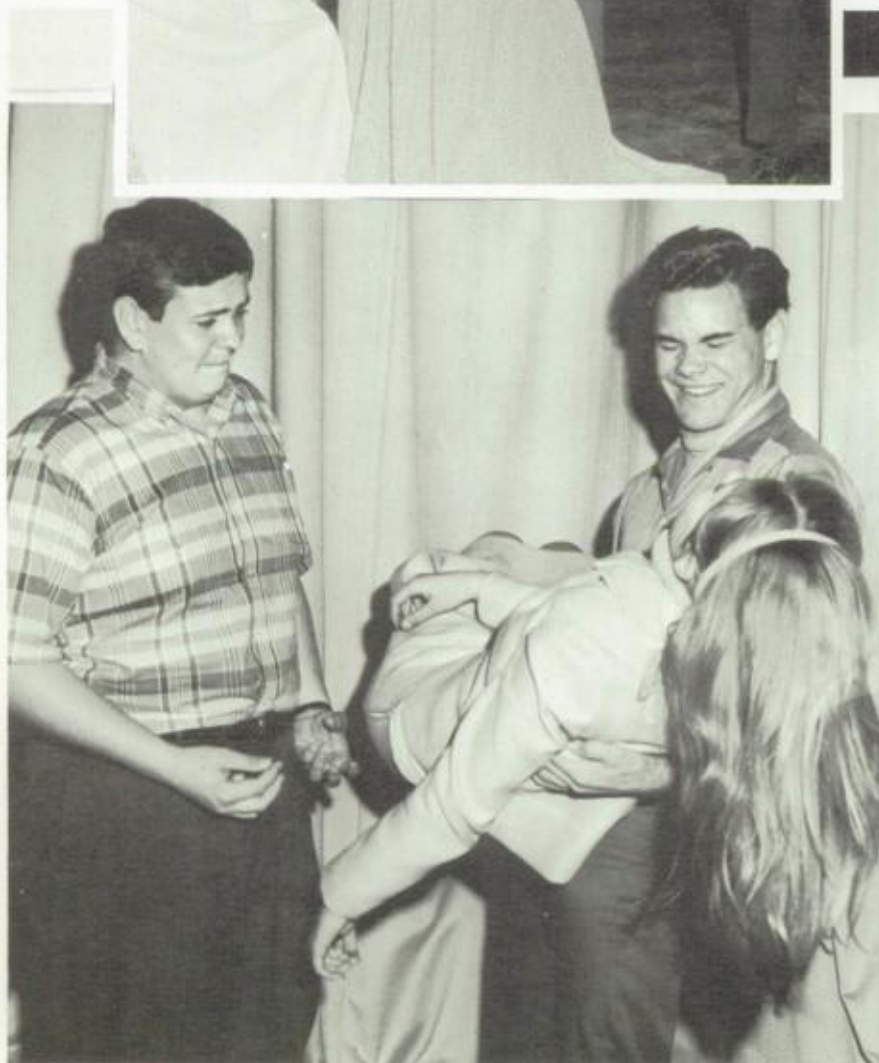

Above: Brent Miller starred in the role of Captain Ahab in "Moby Dick." Below: Recreating scenes from "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," actors gave an imaginative presentation.

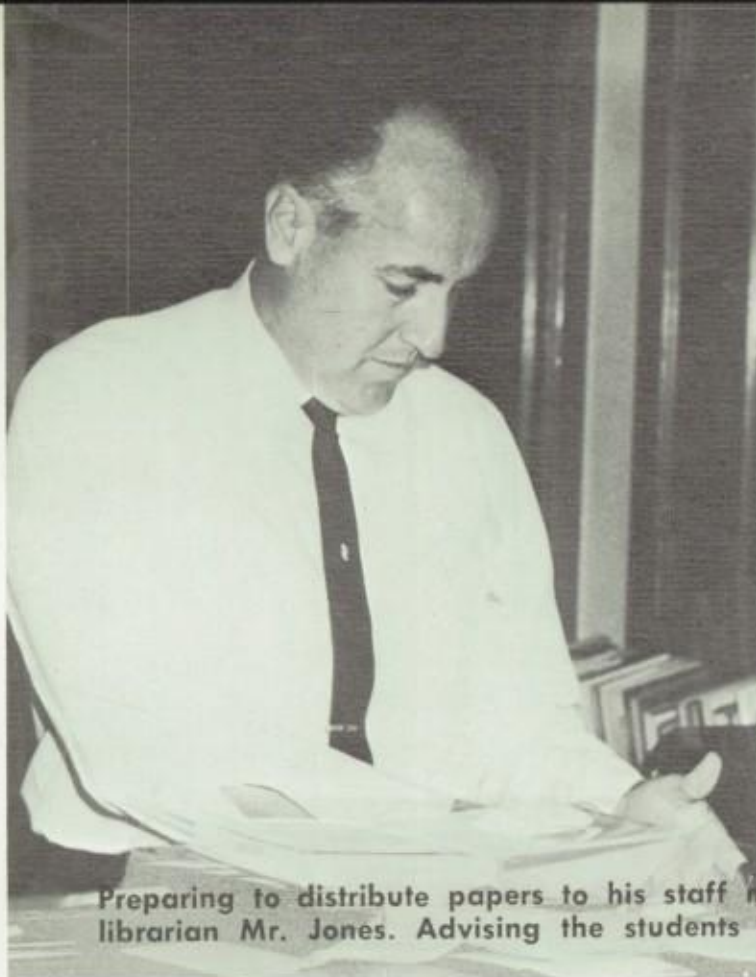

DRAMA

Performing many variations of the dramatic arts was this year's drama class under the guidance of Mr. Miller. Trying-out, rehearsing, memorizing their parts, the students staged several dramas.

"The Mousetrap," by Agatha Christie, was selected as Drama Department's final play. Tom Carroll expresses shock. Dennis Baxter accuses two suspects of foul play.

Preparing to distribute papers to his staff members is our librarian Mr. Jones. Advising the students is Mrs. Sibley.

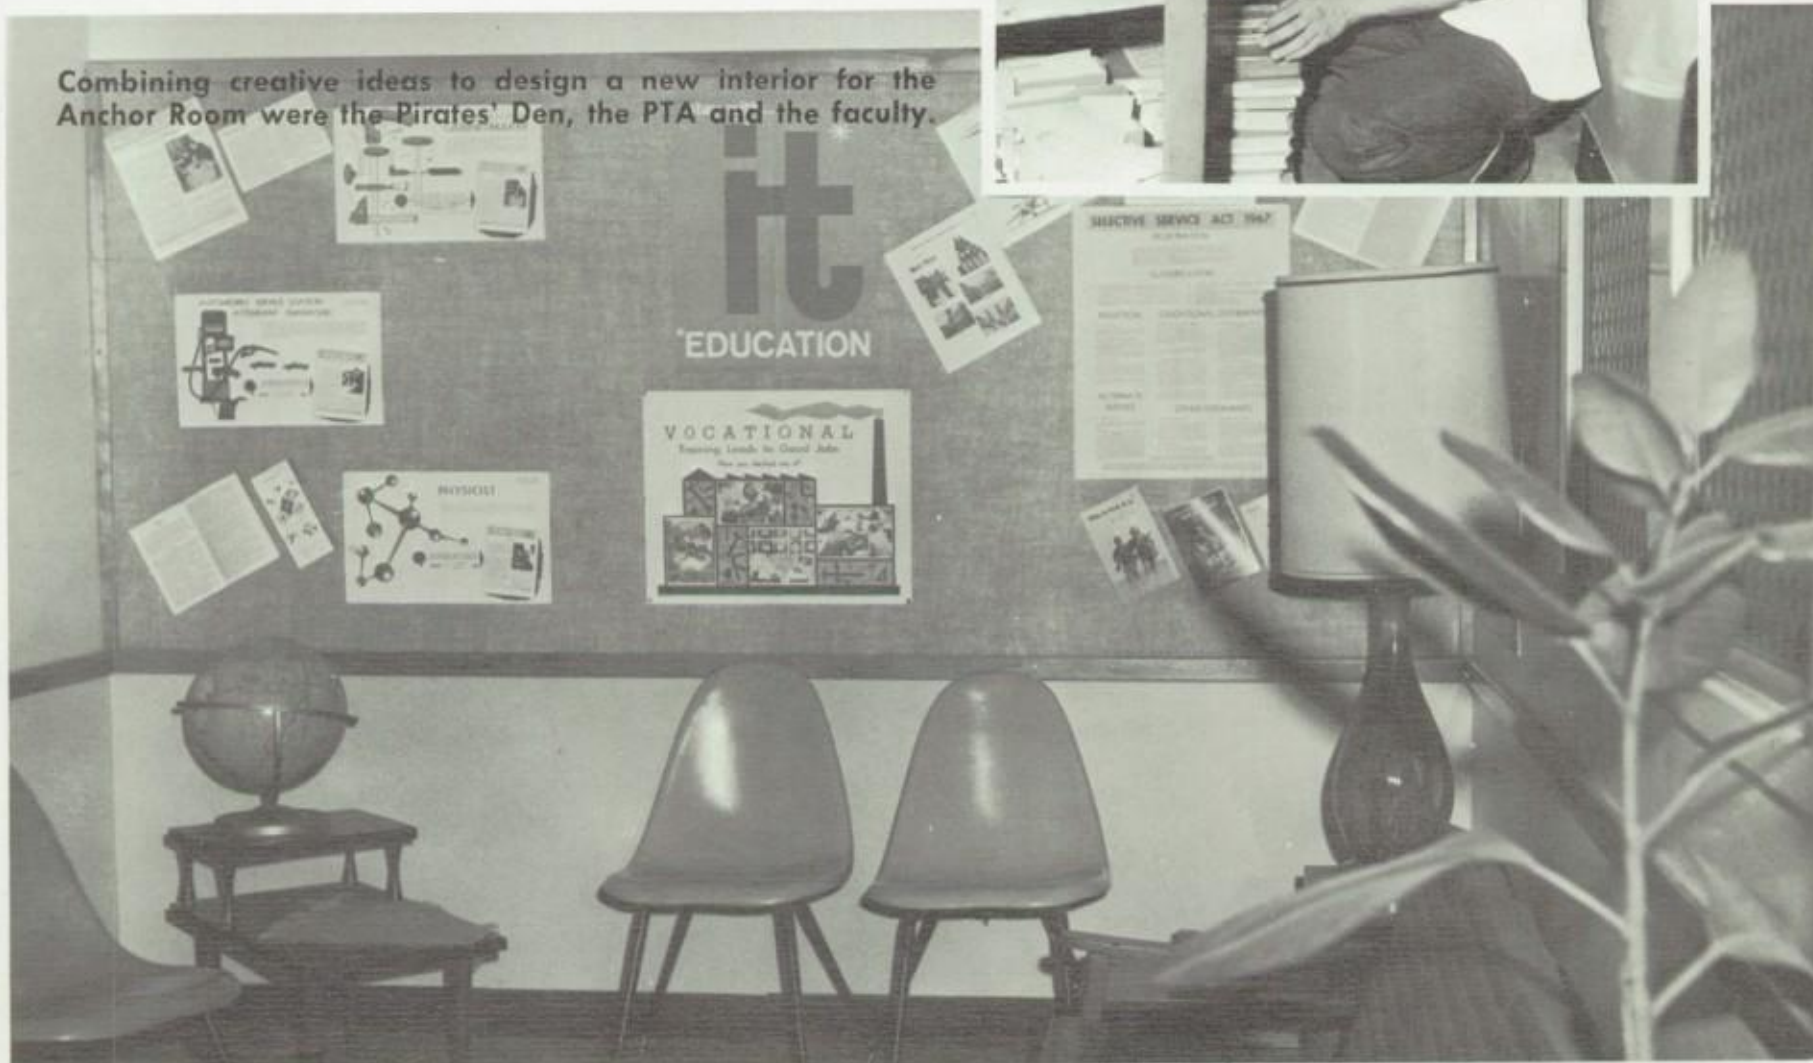

LIBRARY

Maintaining a pleasant atmosphere, the library offered Pirates a quiet place to study or meet friends. New library techniques made it easy for students to find books or use new film projectors.

Combining creative ideas to design a new interior for the Anchor Room were the Pirates' Den, the PTA and the faculty.

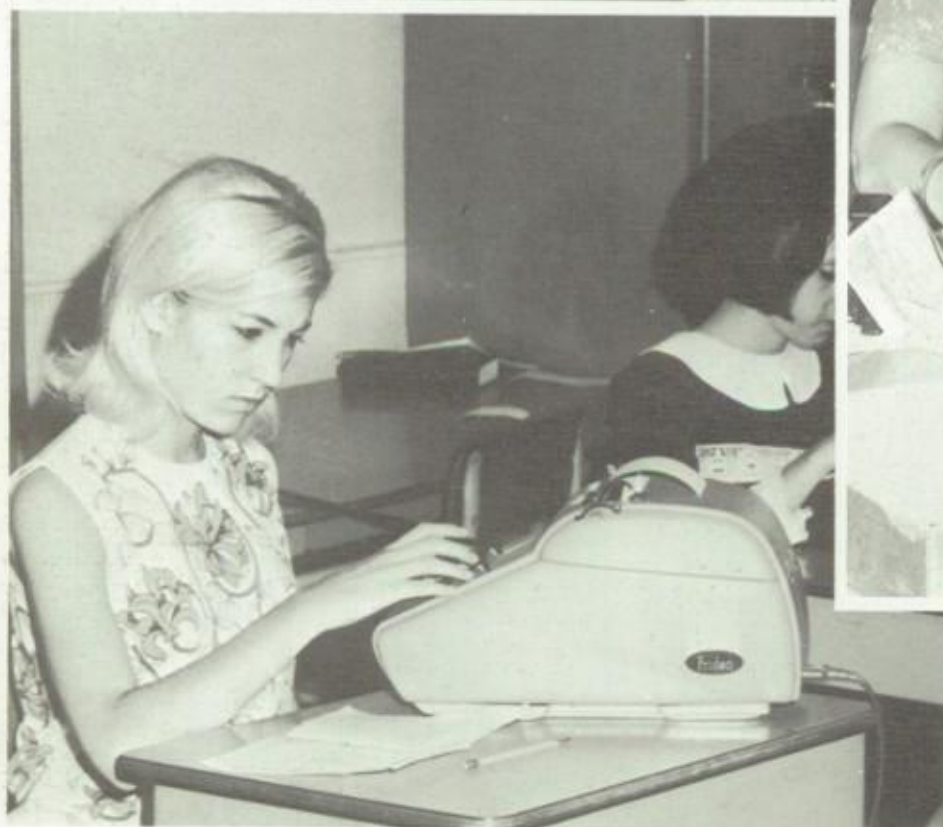

BUSINESS

Future Preparation

An extensive business course offered Pacific students an opportunity to experience the reality of the business world. Typing classes stressed accuracy and keyboard control before the students advanced to typing business letters and other business forms. Bookkeeping was also taught.

Above) Demonstrating the writing techniques of shorthand on the overhead projector is Miss McCoy. Middle) Typing can be done quickly and efficiently once mastery of electric keyboard is acquired. Bottom) Attaining skill and knowledge of how to operate adding machines affirms a secure and comfortable future for young people in the world of business.

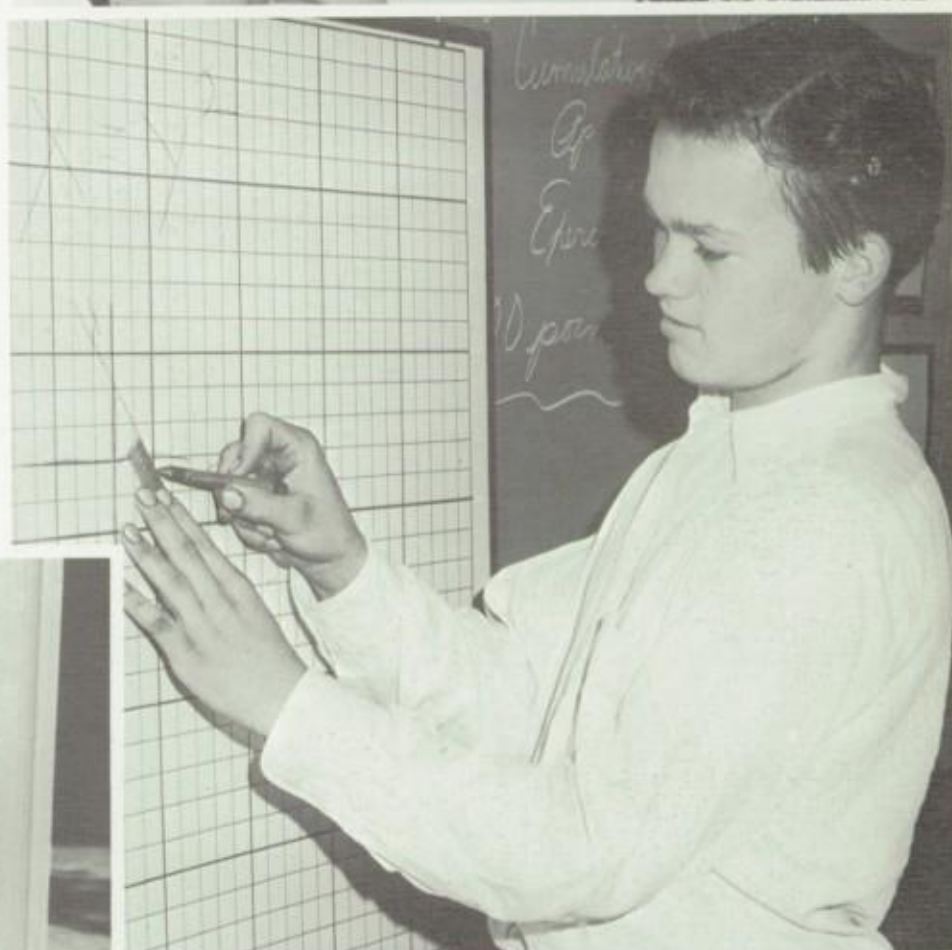

Above) Working in the attendance office enables high school girls to gain valuable office experience before they begin searching for jobs. Assisting the school's secretaries and teachers, the students are given jobs filing, typing, answering the telephone and other work.

MATH

Numbers for the Future

Illustrating examples of proofs and theorems permitted the geometry students to comprehend their subject in more depth. Studying equations functions were Trigonometry students. Algebra II students learned symbolic logic, logarithms, quadratics, and use of the slide rule, preparing them for the higher forms of math.

Solving equations was a major area covered in geometry. With the aid of a slide rule, a great deal of multiplying, dividing and finding square root of large sums was made simpler for the student. In algebra, first and second year students used graphs to plot points and determine degrees of the slopes of lines. The graph was also used to solve equations.

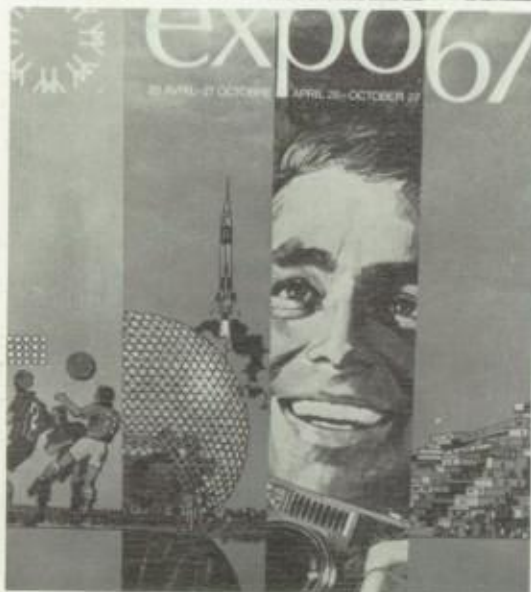

Lower right: Demonstrating outstanding skill with many of the intricate instruments involved is an exuberant group of Dr. Wright's trigonometry students. Picture above: Employing an assorted variety of geometrical shapes and sizes are two diligent technical math students under direction of Mr. Smilac.

CASTELLANO

Emphasizing importance of completing Spanish assignments, Sr. Winsor assures his students that they'll increase their fluency in that subject. Dramatizing the definition of a word in charades gave Srta. Cereceres and students a laugh, helping them speak more Spanish words.

EN FRANCE

Instructing his students in the correct usage of the vocabulary, geographical location, and some of the culture of France was task of Mr. McCoy. Carol Finwall received help from her instructor, while a few students decorated with a variety of colorful Gallic Christmas cards.

DEUTCSHLAND

Becoming acquainted with geographical orientation of Central Europe was one of the many studies carried on in Mr. Havemann's German classes. Returning test papers also proved to be a very popular activity in the classes. Exhibitions of various kinds were presented by students.

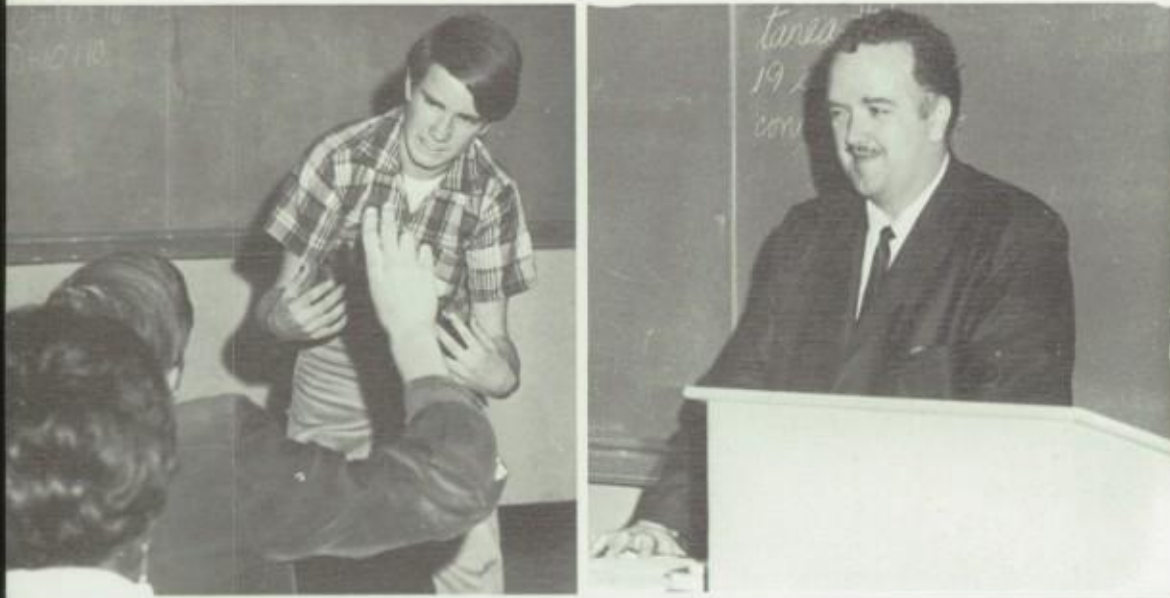

PHILIPPIC

One of the oldest cultures in the world has greatly contributed to the most important language today. One portion of the class required many hours of group study as well as independent work. The translation of ancient Latin works into English was also done by the students.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

To foreign language department were added two new teachers—Mr. McCoy, French, and Senor Murphy, Spanish. In learning a language vocabulary and grammar were essential; but aside from learning the language students also learned about the culture and heritage of the country where the language is spoken. Speaking a foreign language entailed vigorous hours of study for both beginner and advanced student, compounding the necessary essentials for fluency.

ENGLISH

American Heritage

Traveling to universities, viewing plays and visiting our museums were among cultural excursions that Pacific students enjoyed. Creating original term papers encouraged students to research difficult topics and present them in an orderly fashion. Students discussed the symbolism in such required reading as Moby Dick and Lord of the Flies, debating several ideas implied by the authors to increase understanding.

Encouraging Pirates to understand all of the material they read in the Sophomore English classes was the main objective of Mr. Taylor as he assists two students.

PACIFIC ORIGINALS

Exhibiting creative writing abilities and art talents of students was the student edited magazine "Pacific Originals", under the guidance of Mrs. Van Osdel. Consisting of original essays, poetry and short stories, the magazine is published annually.

Mrs. Reynolds relates some inspirational ideas.

One of the many illustrious illustrators for the book was Nancy Taylor.

Carol McKelvey, Mike Klupp passed their judgment on the submission.

Reviewing end product were advisor, Mrs. Van Osdel and Carol McKelvey.

Publishing completed PACIFIC ORIGINALS was a job for Print Shop class.

Enjoying an introduction tea for the Pacific Originals were many of the prospective writers of tomorrow. These students had their selections chosen for publication.

FINE ARTS—Creativity is Progress

Representing many facets of personal creativity is the Fine Arts Department. The Homemaking girls learned to plan meals and a wardrobe. Arts and crafts students studied commercial and industrial design. Students of photography contributed pictures to the Annual and Hi-Tide staffs, helping them complete their deadlines. Scenery for the Drama class was made by stagecraft students.

Homemaking

Pinning on a pattern is Joetta Cline. Cutting a pattern is one step toward the completed product. Demonstrating new cooking techniques to her class is Miss Marjorie DeLeva.

Stage Craft

Creating many interesting back-drops for the drama productions were students of stage-craft class. Under the direction of Mr. Fotia, the students spent their time painting scenery.

Photography

Developing pictures in the dark room, is Ken Shaddox. Photographers learned the basic steps under guidance of Mr. Charles Painter.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Shaping the World

Presenting the student body with courses from Driver's Education to Psychology was the Social Service Department. Driver's Education classes viewed informative films and listened to many serious lectures given by the police department. Students received behind-the-wheel training to complete their graduation requirements and knowledge of defensive driving. Special courses were offered in areas of geography, economics, and Latin American History. Humanity classes enabled students to compare literature and art to their specific time in history. Giving students an opportunity to hear many interesting speakers, Saturday Class inspired many Juniors to ask questions pertinent to past and current world affairs. Exploring curiosities of human behavior, Psychology classes researched to find out why.

Top: Aiding three Saturday Class members is instructor Letro.
Bottom: Studying U.S. map are American History students.

Below: Mayor Ballard discusses local problems.

Experimental class of Flexible Scheduling was a new addition at Pacific. One hundred juniors participated in U.S. History, English, and P.E.

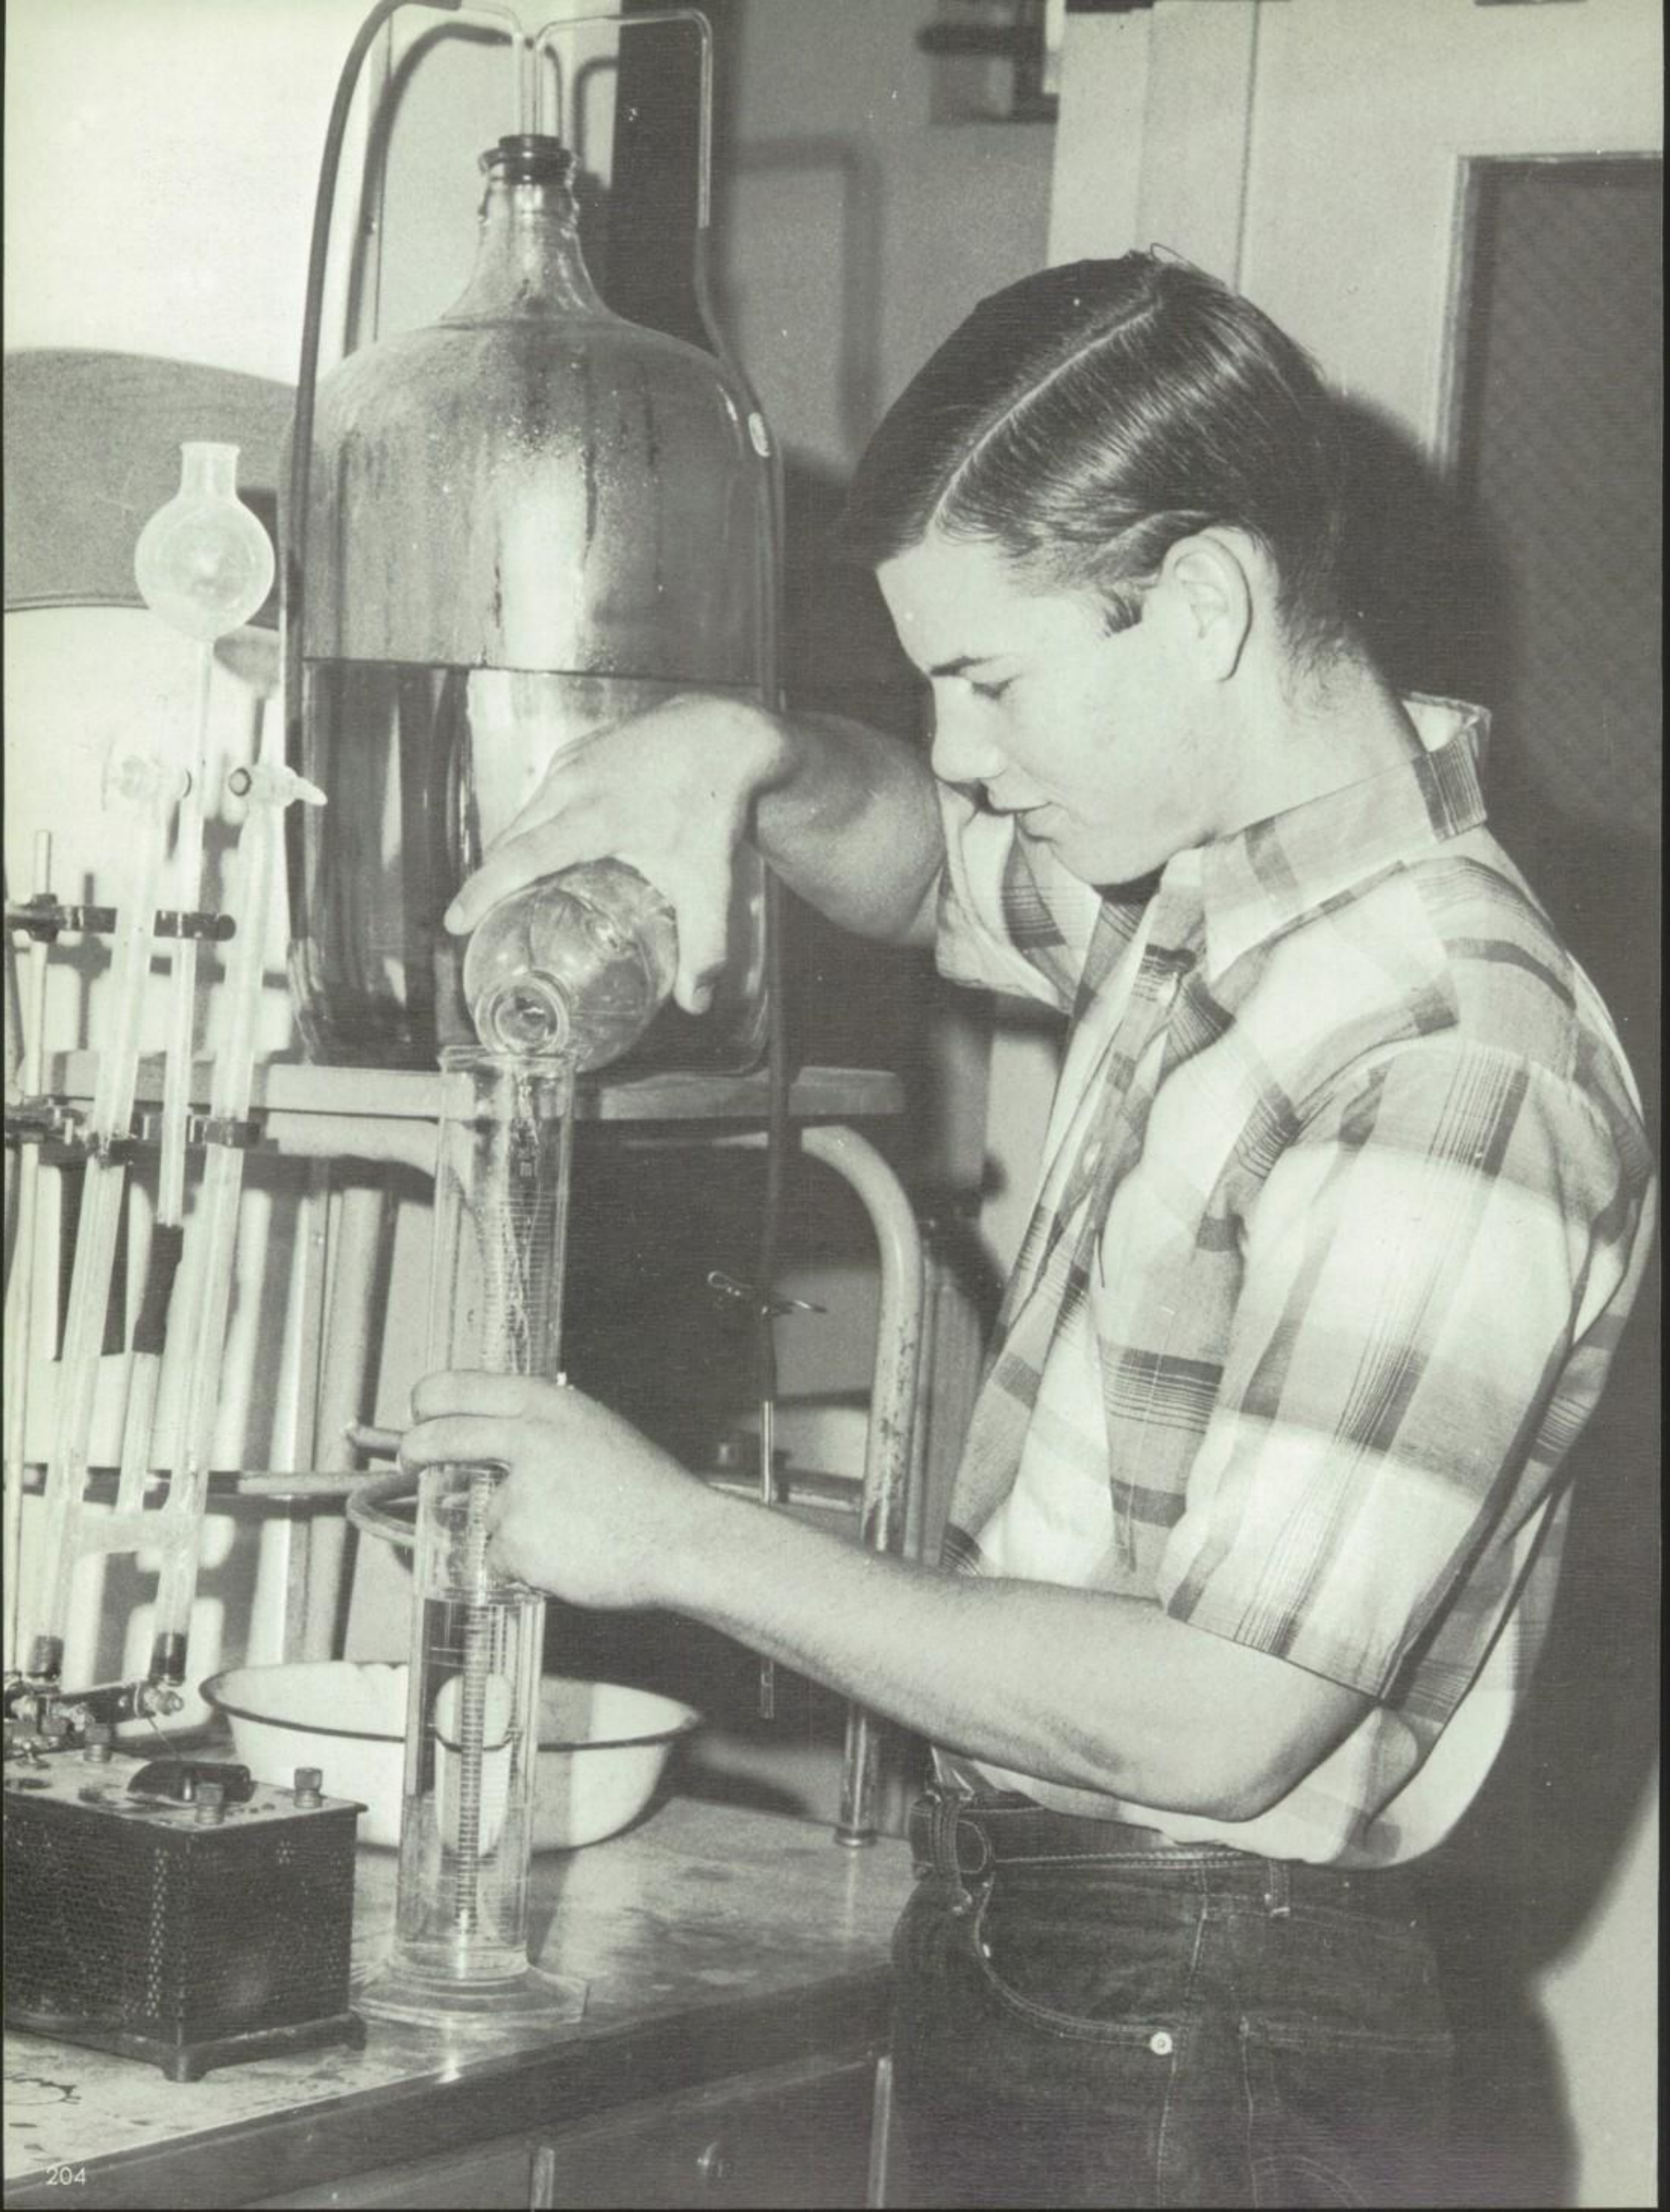

The All- Americans

Left: Demonstrating powers of perception through a classroom maze is Mike Bosworth of Mr. McElwee's Psychology class.

Right: Examining the many intricate sections of the modern auto are Kathy Kayrell and Maddy Pfau of a Driving course.

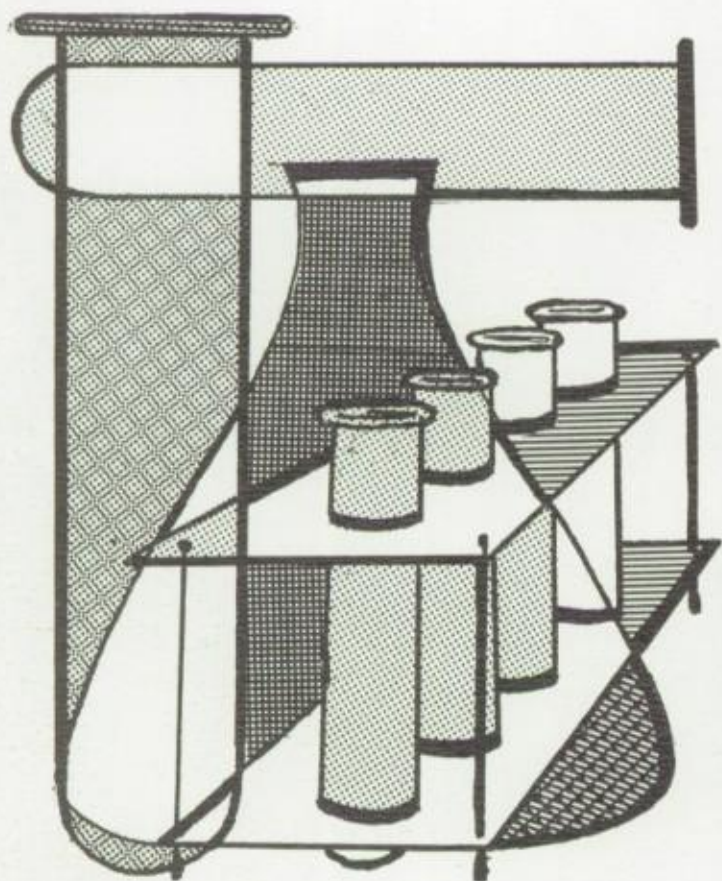

SCIENCE

Examining fossil forms of life, the Lab Biology students were able to study the basic processes of life. Dissecting such specimens as jellyfish and clams, the students learned the similarity between basic life functions. Using mathematical instruments like the monkey gun and the slide rule, Physics students tried solving equations. Mixing acids and chemicals, Chemistry students reported their elating or disappointing results.

Aside from having to learn parts of the squid, and earth worm, Biology students had to know parts of other small animals. Among them was the crayfish which an enthusiastic students points out. Chemistry students experimented and developed new solutions by mixing other solutions.

Assisting students in a Physics experiment on non-uniform acceleration is Mr. Kocher. Students perform many such experiments during the year, enabling them to better comprehend Physics.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

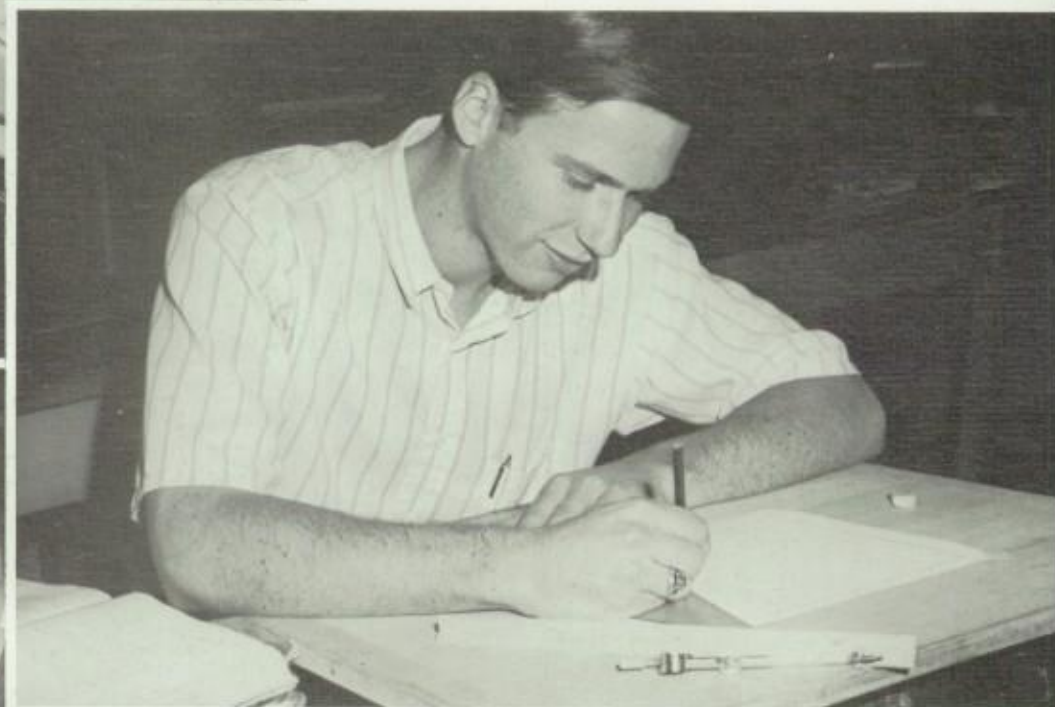

Creating By Hand

A wide variety of industrial arts classes were offered at Pacific to meet the many needs of the vocationally minded students. Vast amounts of training were needed to prepare students for future occupations. One of the most popular vocational classes was Print Shop, directed by Mr. Toms. Many of the important aspects of printing were fully explored. In Auto Shop, students learned the mechanics of autos.

Left: Testing a generator was Joe Walker of a Television Repair class of Mr. Ferris.

Below: Demonstrating their art abilities were some Print Shop students. Bottom: Welding students produce creative forms.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Representing Pacific at many performances throughout the city was our highly cultured and sophisticated Music Department. Band and Orchestra rated well.

The Sound Of Music A Symphony Of Notes

Enhancing the cultural level of Pacific's students and faculty were the Orchestra and Wind Ensemble. Both groups were under the capable and highly commendable direction of Mr. Harry Harbaugh. Exhausting hours of practice and planning went into preparation of the public performances that were offered during the year. The groups represented Pacific at competitions throughout Southern California, frequently bringing back fine ratings and honors. Members of the Wind Ensemble consisted of outstanding musicians from the Orchestra. They also presented a number of performances for students of Pacific High School in forums and assemblies.

MARGARET HENNING VALEDICTORIAN

An active participant in many school activities was Soboban President Margaret Henning. She was also a member of Student Council and Vocal Ensemble. Marge plans an education in Fine Arts at Scripps.

Pacific Brain Bowl enthusiast Roger Teal was an inspiration to his team. Tennis and Student Council rounded out his activities. Pursuing a career in science, Roger plans to become a nuclear physicist at MIT.

ROGER TEAL VALEDICTORIAN

MARGARET MONSANTO VALEDICTORIAN

Excelling in the areas of mathematics and science, Margaret Monsanto plans to further her ambitions by attending University of Riverside. Elected Financial Secretary, she keeps busy balancing budgets.

Beth Green, Concert Mistress of Pacific's Orchestra, is an avid music enthusiast, playing the violin for several years. An interest in life processes led Beth to seek a career in Biology at University of Colo.

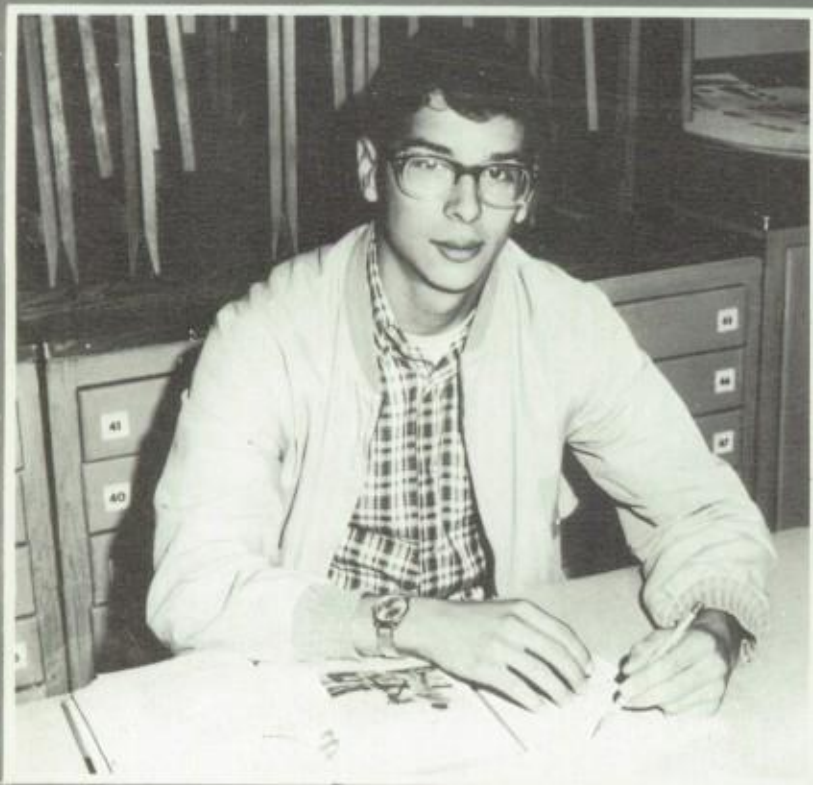

BETH GREEN VALEDICTORIAN

RICHARD BASS SALUTATORIAN

The intelligent and versatile Richard Bass is well recognized on campus for his educational accomplishments. He intends to continue in the field of advanced mathematics at the University of Riverside.

Leading ICC to a very successful year, Alan Fenning initiated the Country Fair revival held for the first time in five years. Vocational goals include a career in law in the exciting field of political science.

ALAN FENNING SALUTATORIAN

BANK OF AMERICA

Nominated by Pacific's faculty, Bank of America candidates competed with students from other schools in the fields of fine arts, liberal arts, math science and vocational arts. Miss Margaret Mary Henning and Mr. Robert A. Fredericks were chosen in the final rounds of the competition to represent Pacific. Margaret, outstanding in the area of fine arts and Bob, excelling in the field of liberal arts, will go on to further contests sponsored by the Bank of America. For their local achievements, they received $150 to be used toward college expenses. As zone finalists they are eligible for further competition.

By receiving one of the best scores on the national college board exams, Nicki Russler and Alan Fenning were able to enter competition for the SCE Scholarship. Their outstanding academic achievements made them highly qualified to represent Pacific for the awards as well as in any one of our nation's colleges or universities. Nicki was a member of the Graduation Committee of the Class of '68 and represented Pacific when she visited Israel last summer. She played French horn in the school band and orchestra. Alan was on Student Council as president of the Inter-Club Council and NFL.

CALIF. STATE SCHOLARSHIPS SEMI - FINALISTS

Results of the Scholastic Aptitude Tests were the main factor in determining 1968 California State Scholarship Winners. Students had to put in many years of diligent and tedious work to compete for this honor. Included in the 27 outstanding semi-finalists were Inter-Club Council president Alan Fenning, Pacificana editor Carol McKelvy, football star Bill Nicholson and ASB President Tim Williams. All of the fine scholars will be representing Pacific at the finest schools in the nation. These included Harvard, Claremont Men's College, Stanford, University of California and many state and private institutions.

Representing Pacific in Seymour Award Competition was Alan Fenning. He was the only competitor from the San Bernardino area for the coveted award. As one of four representatives from Southern California, Alan is competing for a $1000 scholarship to the school of his choice. At school he maintained 4.0 grade average, Alan was president of Pacific Inter-club Council and a member of Student Council, also an active member of Balboa del Pacifico, and was the No. 2 man on varsity tennis team. A member of CSF and NHS, Alan competed for other awards for outstanding students in many academic areas.

SEAL BEARERS

Honoring students who sustained a high grade point average was the California Scholastic Federation of PHS. Awarded highest honors at graduation these students are excellent examples of Pacific's slogan, "First Class All The Way." These students received the distinction of being called Gold Sealbearers. Representing the Class of Integrity were 30 outstanding seniors. As Pacific's representatives, they were active in Student Council, the Choir, Dance Band, Swimming, Football, Tennis, Baseball and extension courses at University of Riverside. These students were well recommended for their scholastic success.

Juniors with a grade average of 3.0 or better were urged to compete in the National Merit Scholarship competition. They took National Merit exams in February and anticipated their results. Qualifying students were then able to compete in the National Merit contest. Representing one-fourth of one percent of the nation's high school students, Roger Teal, Roger Henn, Richard Bass and Alan Fenning became Pacific's semi-finalists. Scholarship winners of National Merit fame received many honors, including immediate entrance to the school of their choice, and also the many benefits of free tuition.

Entering Pacific this year, sophomores were introduced not only to high school but to a high school that is "First Class All the Way." The sophomore class enthusiastically elected officers, had an active social council and promoted fund-raising projects such as the selling of safety flares and zip-code directories.

How beautiful is youth! How bright it gleams with its illusions, aspiration, dreams! Book of beginning, story without end, each maid a heroine, and each man a friend.

—Idem

Dear Jeff,

Well, another year has come and gone and our friendship is stronger than ever. There are so many feelings for you I would like to tell you but there are so few words to express them. You are, truthfully, one of the most wonderful and inwardly beautiful people there ever could be.

I am so very proud to have you as my friend. Your friendship is so precious to me. It could never be torn down and it could never be replaced.

We have shared experiences all our lives and we have stood together through sadness as well as happiness. I am confident that the ties that bind us so closely together will never be broken.

It will be with great respect, admiration for you, and the merriest faith in you that I will have the honor of walking with you at graduation of 1970.

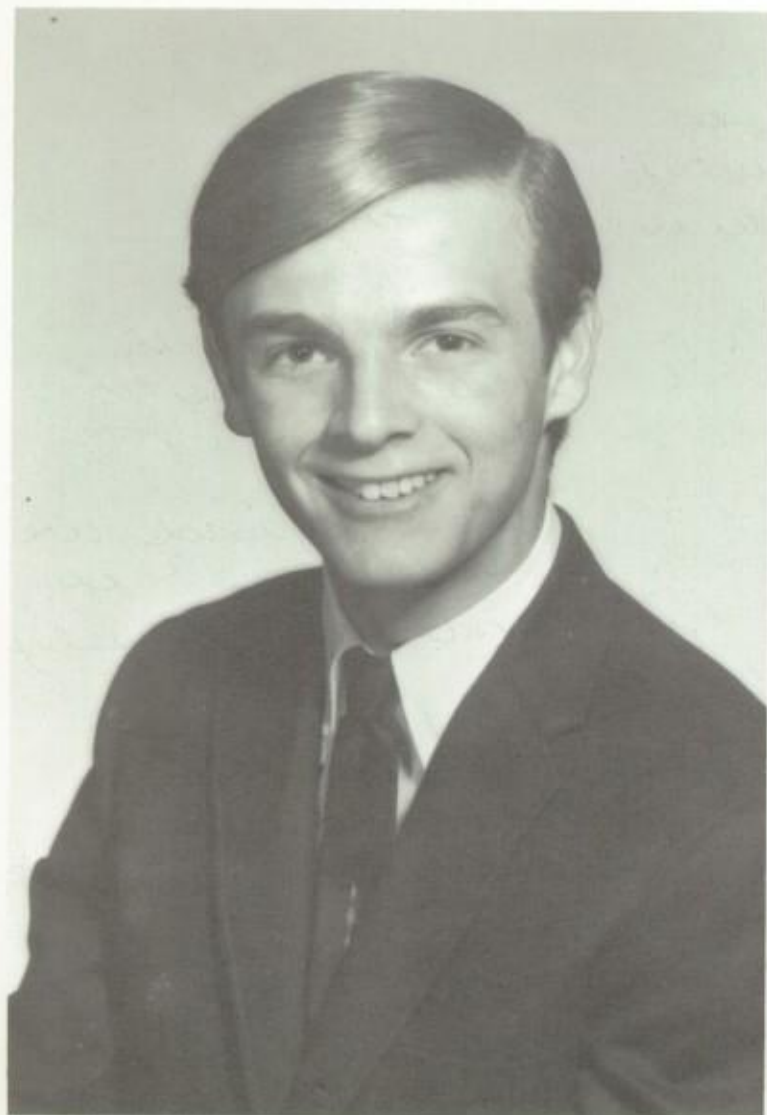

There will never be another you.

I'll love you always.

Your friend all eternity,

SOPHOMORE

Class of 70

Our great school's motto, "First Class All the Way," depicts very well the glowing pride of the Pacific High student. This pride, unlimited, finds no greater glow than in my fellow grads of '70. I sincerely wish to thank all the other officers for a great job done, and the "Class of '70" for a wonderful year and the honor of being Sophomore President.

Exercising powerful lungs and larynxes, enthusiastic sophs cheered wildly in competition and in union with the rest of the student body. Their yells contributed to making Pacific not only the best in sports, but the best in school spirit also.

Being marked upon entering, sophomores await the opening of their first dance of the season. These dances promoted school spirit and encouraged students to meet friends and make new acquaintances while adding to the activity funds.

SOPH ELECTIONS

Exercising the rights of students, members of the sophomore class participated in elections in the early portion of the school year. After the new officers had been chosen, they began to execute their respective duties with the aid of their sponsors, Mr. Bahr and Mr. Wheeler. This year was one filled with the completion of campaign promises, long past. By their example set this year, sophomores should prove to be a fine group in their junior year.

The crowning touch

Smiling radiantly, Miss Leslie Waddell accepted the title of 1968 Sophomore Darling. Escorted by Bob Fredericks, Leslie was crowned by last year's homecoming queen, Pam Brantley. Leslie was attired in a beige silk dress with a lace overlay. Other Sophomore Darling nominees were Lisa McCuiston, Sue Roddy and Susan Waterworth.

Enjoying their brief respite from hectic sophomore schedules, students used time to converse with friends and eat their food.

Kathy Sanders placed class beanie on Bill Cunningham while Danny Matlach placed one on Alecia Minick's head in the traditional ritual of Pacific symbolizing sophomores's advancement to the rank of juniors.

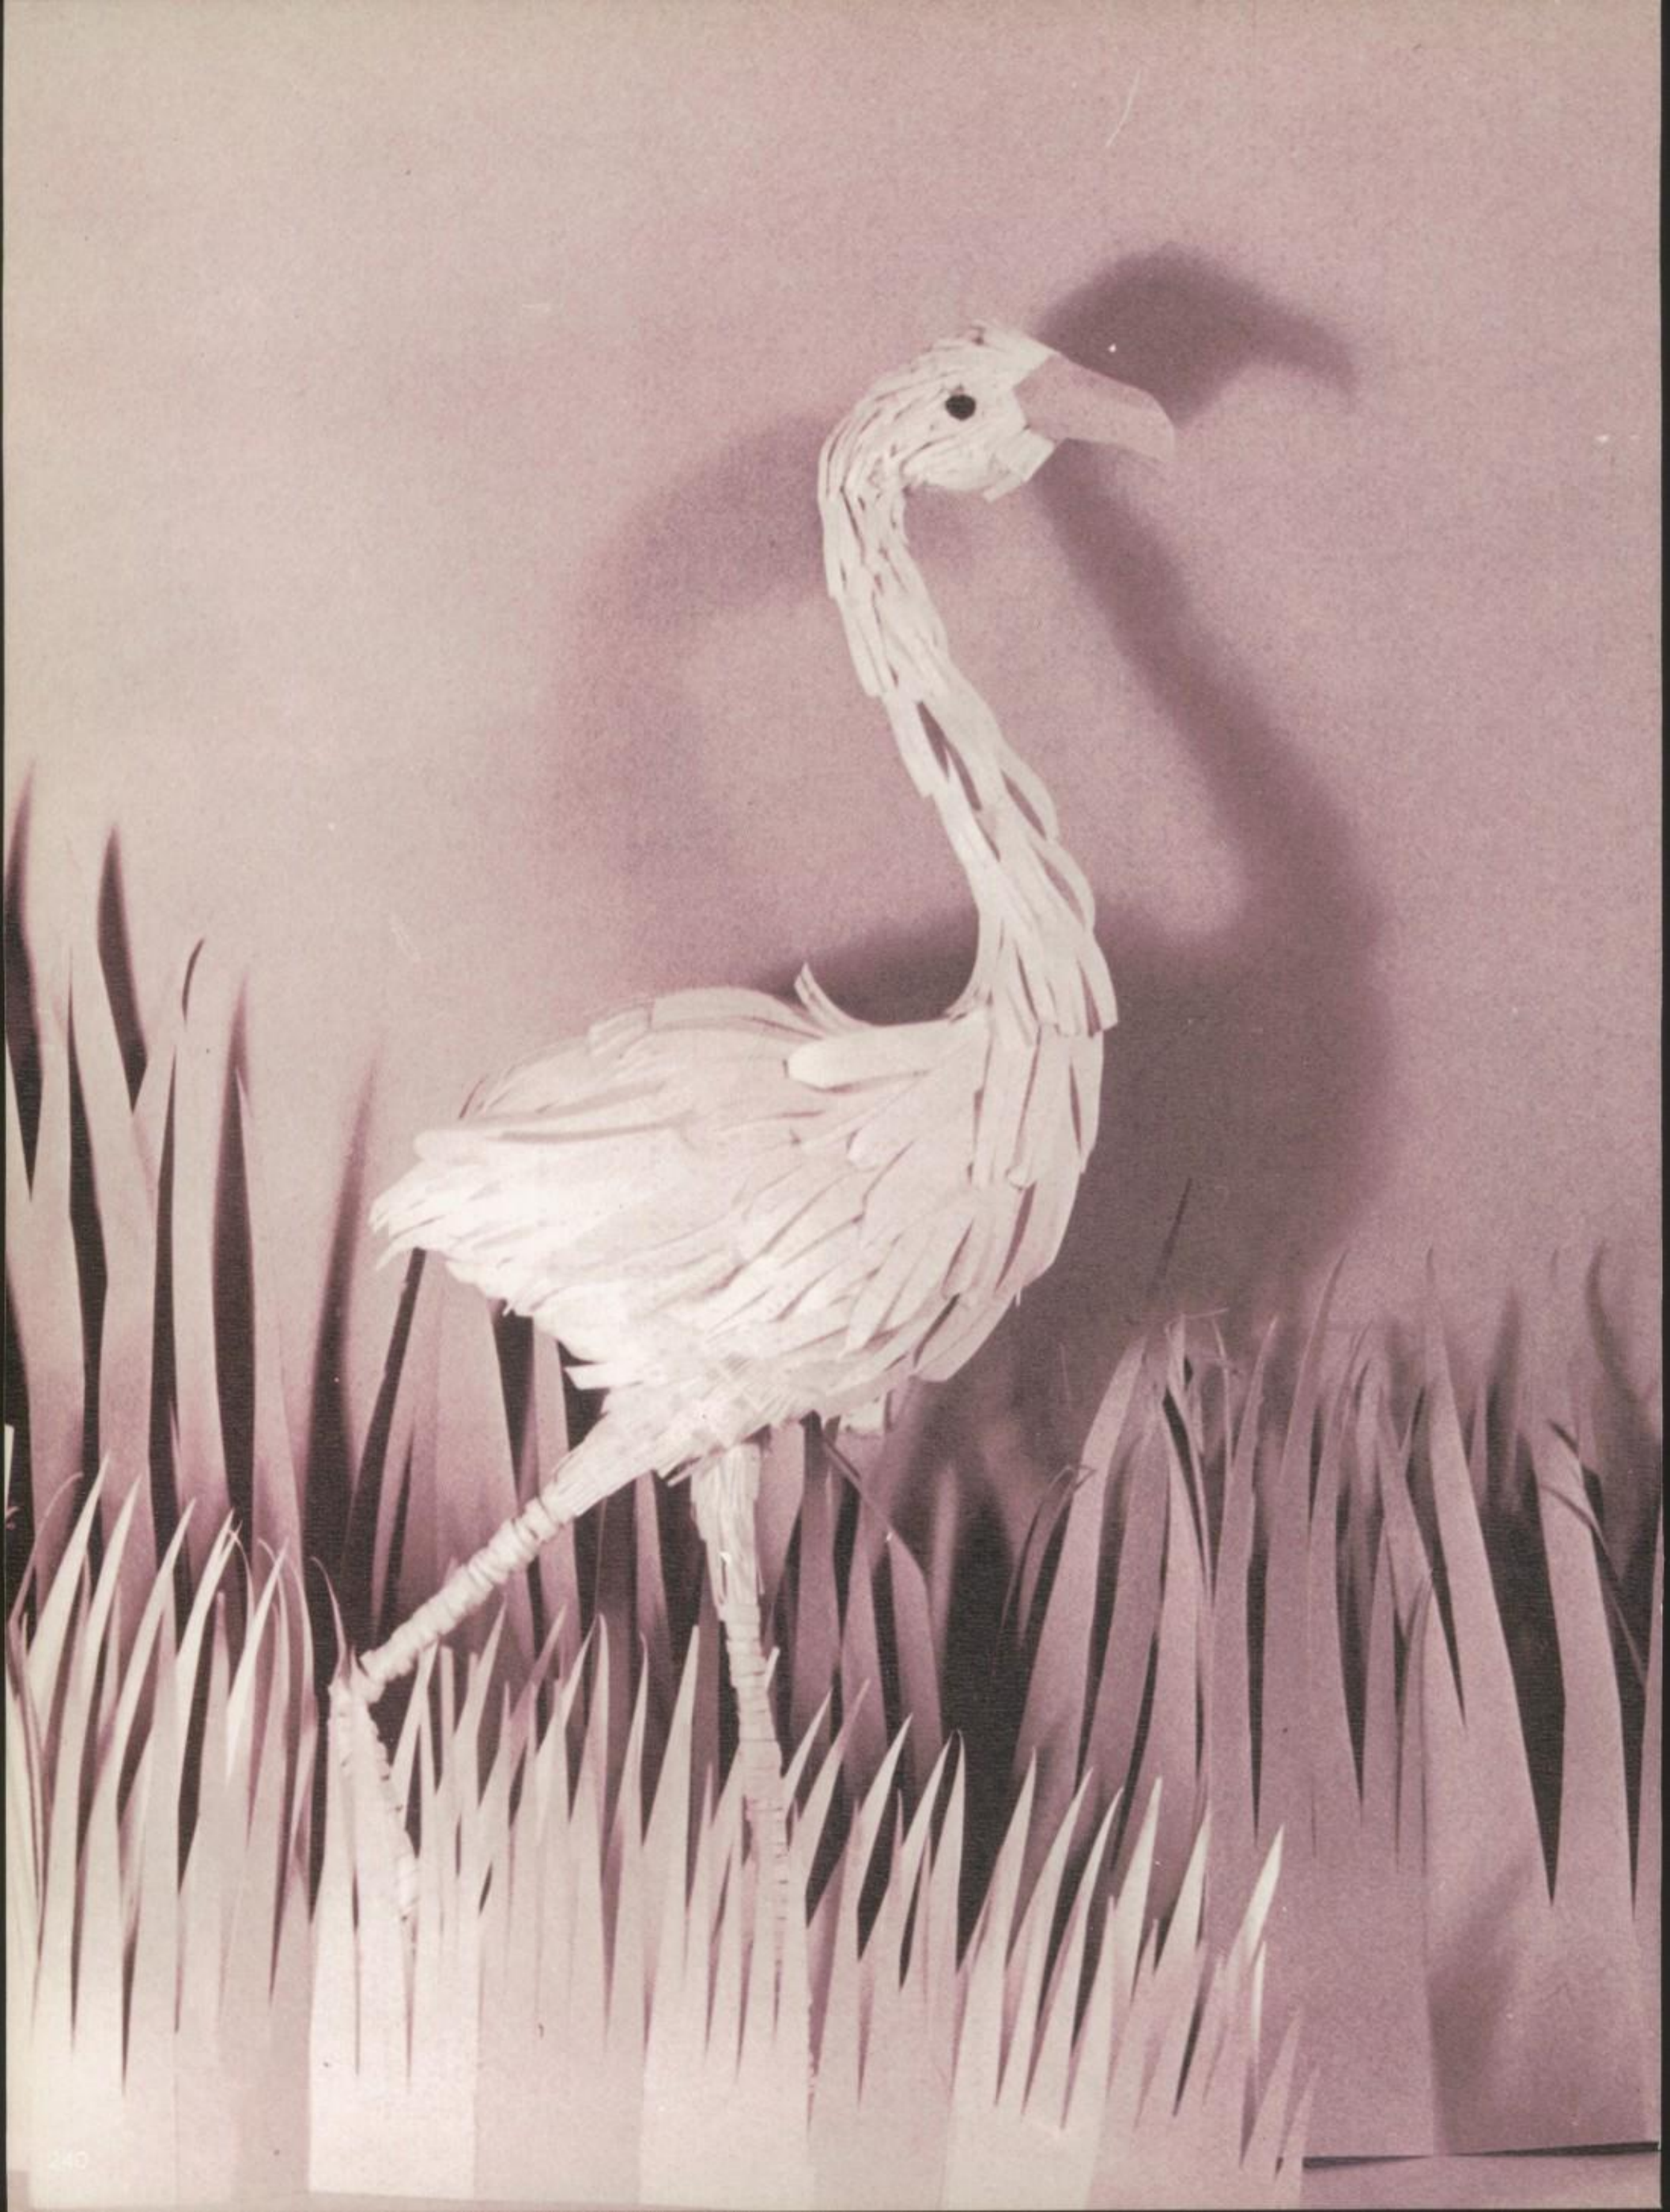

Researching one of numerous papers were these two sophomores in the library at lunch. Sophs learned many techniques in the art of research.

Working long hours, sophomores on annual performed their tasks.

Improving speed was purpose of the reading lab.

CLUBS

Flamingos, the most socially inclined and gregarious of birds, easily represented the clubs. Special interest, social service and honor clubs were a basis for many activities. The clubs provided a place for ideas to be exchanged, interests to be deepened, friendships to be formed.

INTER CLUB COUNCIL

Honor, social service and special interest clubs were all members of ICC this year. There was a total of 39 clubs on the Pacific campus. Main function of ICC was to discuss and activate projects during the year. Required for honor clubs was a "B" grade average and a teacher's recommendation. Social service clubs donated thousands of hours for school and community service.

Representing the many clubs on Pacific's campus was the Inter Club Council. President Alan Fenning held the ICC council meetings on first Tuesday of the month.

HONOR

Honor clubs offered membership to outstanding students. Each club had specific requirements. Sobobans and Zonta Zs, girls' honor clubs, required a "B" average in subject grade and in citizenship. Leadership, service to school and community and outstanding individual achievement were among other qualifications required. Students with high scholastic standards were entitled to join NHS and CSF and graduate with honors. Outstanding Spanish students were invited to join Balboa del Pacifico and talented speakers were eligible to join the NFL.

Top right: Presenting skits proved to be very effective in expanding the ability to learn Spanish to members of Balboa del Pacifico. Bottom right: An "Alice in Wonderland" theme for the annual Z-Soboban party inspired four guests to attend as a polka-dotted caterpillar.

AWARD WINNING

FLOATS

In keeping with the theme "The Greatest Show on Earth", the Pagettes spent countless hours devising an encaged tiger with a Pirate for a driver to win the 1967 Homecoming float sweepstakes. The prize-winning float was in competition with a variety of other circus floats constructed by social service and honor clubs. Sweepstakes trophy was presented to Pagettes president, Peggy Fink, at game halftime.

Top left: Overwhelmed officers of Pagettes proudly received their well-earned trophy. Bottom left: The well-constructed circus wagon and captive Chaffey tiger with a Pirate driver captivated hearts of the crowds and judges as the Pagette float proved to be outstanding by winning sweepstakes trophy for 1967 annual club football homecoming competition.

Zontas' elephant was 2nd runner-up.

GAA's hippopotamus was 3rd runner-up.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Participation in activities of social service club was responsible for much of the fun that took place on campus. Social functions added to the success of the clubs, but these groups also devoted numerous hours to school and community service projects.

Top left: Winning a contest by eating pie proved to be quite amusing for the Lettermen as they defeated Galahads in the annual pie-eating contest sponsored by the Lehis. SPECIAL INTEREST

Special interest clubs encouraged membership of students to develop their abilities, ambitions and talents. Rho Delta Chi guided students in the field of teaching, while photo production satisfied the interests of potential photographers. Interfaith Fellowship gave students the opportunity to learn about different religions, and those interested in theatre production and acting joined Thespians. Burgermeisters attracted German-speaking students. Athletic students sought membership in GAA and Lettermen. Future Homemakers of America were offered membership in FHA. A new club, All Americans, was founded for students in flexible scheduling.

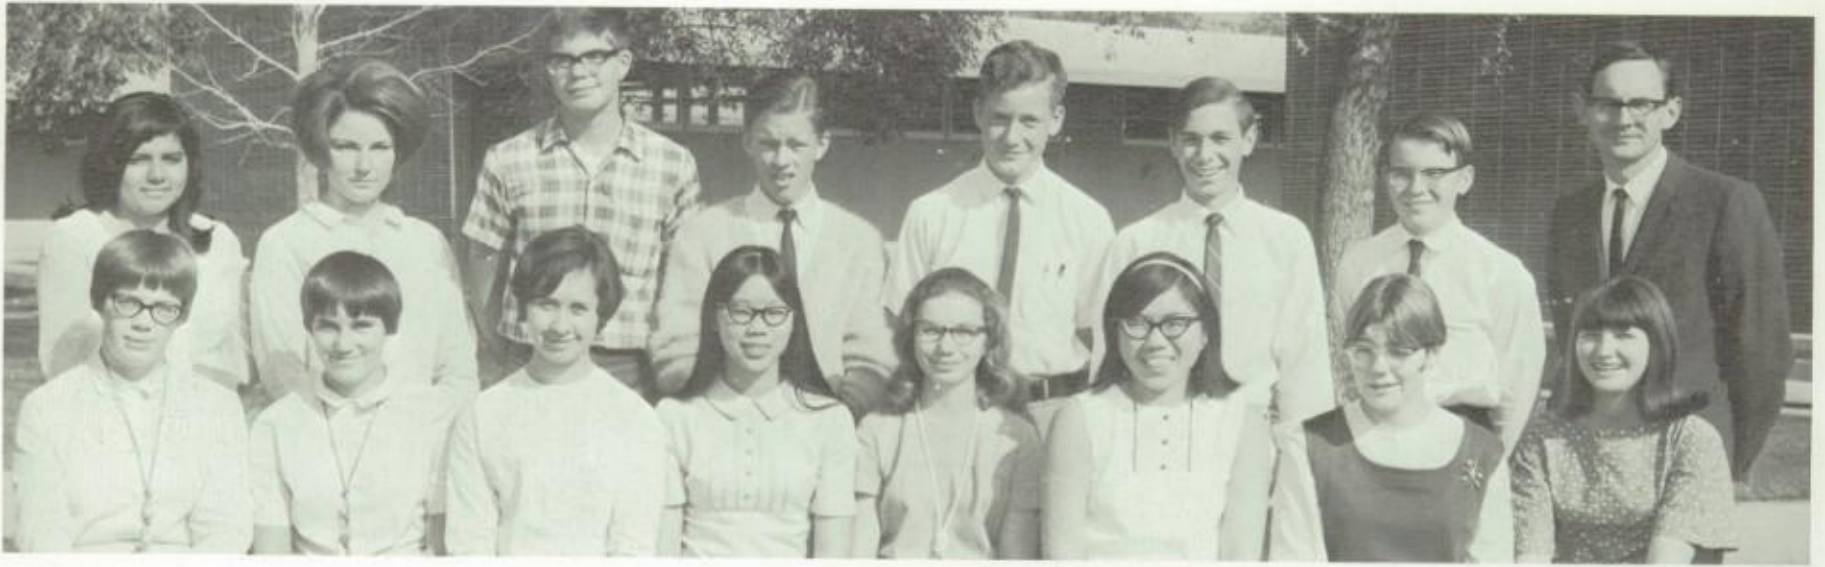

Top left: John Pavia watched as Carole Barkes worked ambitiously keeping library records up to date. Bottom left: Throughout the past year, GAA participated in field hockey, tennis, badminton, football, volleyball, speed-away and track. However, playing basketball proved the most fun for club members.

Jeff -
so my best friend
ever. this sounds corny,
But your friendship is the best thing that has ever happened to me. I
my office, K-klub, and football.
Really, I fell so proud
when I can call you
my best friend.
Good luck always,
Jeff God Bless you

Jeffrey
I am so glad you won your office be cause you really observed
it, and I think you'll do the best job of all of the officers. In fact I know you will. Jeff you are one of those great guys that would do anything for anyone
you are the most sincere person
I know (and I'm not just saying that either).
your friend always,
Jim Byer

Pepsi-Cola cold
beats any cola cold!

Drink Pepsi cold—the colder the better. Pepsi-Cola's taste was created for the cold. That special Pepsi taste comes alive in the cold. Drenching, quenching taste that never gives out before your thirst gives in. Pepsi pours it on!

Taste that beats the others cold...
Pepsi
pours it on!

To The

CLASS OF '68

From The

PACIFICANA

STAFF

Jeff,
All these years have been nice. I wish you the best of everything, of which I know you'll strive to obtain. Congratulations you'll make a great representative. I hope that you find your success in life, for you truly deserve it. Much happiness always,
Paula McGraw

Mr. Leslie Nielsen

Jeff,

We have always been good friends,

but this year I feel so much closer to you for so many reasons. I don't have to explain myself

when I say that I respect

and love you so much because you understand.

It's really the greatest feeling knowing that there is a person who you can trust above

anything, and I hope that you feel that you can trust

me. There are so many wonderful things

to look forward to in life, and you have all of them to look forward to

as great successes.

You will always be a great inspiration

to all your friends, and especially myself. I wish you all the happiness all the days of your life. May God Bless you.

Love Always, Dawn

Jeff - really
you are one of the swellest guys I know - I feel I have such a great personality
I'm really glad you got
in. Rep. I can't think of anyone more deserving except for me!!! Keep your good grades - maybe we have all the Salads
in the world. Happiness & luck

Love ya,
Martha

To a real neat guy
Good luck to you but not to McCarthy!
See ya next school year. Mom

Jeff, I'm really glad I got to know you this year.
You're one of the sweetest most considerate boys I know, don't ever change
your great personality
Have a fun summer
Love your fellow

Jeff,
Another annual I don't know what to say!
Be kind to your summer
loves; don't break too
many hearts. Oh well, enough of that bull.
Have fun next year.

Vicki
Rudh

You're a really "great" guy. It's been nice knowing you. Hope
you have a nice summer.
Be good.

Law,
Kathy Turner

So ever be GREAT, GREAT, GREAT,
As far, you will

I have been thinking of you around here
 year. I wish I could see you.

Jeff,
 Best of luck in the coming years.
 Thanks for the help in Geometry.
 Hope your in order
 of my classes next year, so you can keep me. See
 you next year.
 Don

Life (Español)
It was my fun in

Jeff
You've been a real "nice" guy since I've known
you. Fun working with
you. Fun
goodness will be your next year.

Jeff,
I wish I could have known ya better,
you are really sweet (and
that's not just a polite phrase. Be good. Hope to see ya in the summer. Over ya,
Pusti

Jeff,
I wish that I could have met you sooner so that I could have known you better. I think that you are a really great guy.
I really hope to see you
during the summer and the coming year. Be good and keep in touch. Next year will be fun. Keep up the good work for our class and I'll help the best
I can. See ya.
Lisa Murko

Jeff,

You're really a lucky fella.
You just must be the nearest thing to perfect I know. Really!
You're also super-talented;
super-nice and super-everything.
I'm not just talking to hear myself either. I really love and admire you.

Jeff,
You're a real cool
cool dork. Good luck
this summer and next year.

Jeff,
I'm really glad you were in my geometry class. You really made it a lot of fun. I'm really glad you got your office
too. That's really great. Hope I see
you next year.
Linda Schuelman

Jeff,
You are really
one of the nicest
boys I know and you certainly deserve all your achievements. I hope we can become better acquainted
next year.
Love,
Barton

One of the nicest,
kindest, greatest people I know - good luck always - Sara Fromme

Jeff,
You're a truly
fine person.
It has been fun knowing
you. You don't need any real luck, for you
have everything.
Hope to see you
next year
Alice Kuock
